Gemini Team Races Clock For Blastoff

BULLETIN

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) —The Gemini 5 astronauts climbed into their space ship today and the countdown clicked smoothly on toward a target launch time of 1:18 p.m. EDT.

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The Gemini 5 space team licked a pesky fueling problem today, then raced against time in an effort to launch Astronauts L. Gordon Cooper Jr. and Pete Conrad Jr. on man's longest space voyage.

After a delay of more than three hours, during which the space men were reported "sleeping soundly" in their quarters on Merritt Island, the countdown was resumed. But the earliest possible launch time then stood at 1:18 p.m. (EDT).

Four hours before launch, everything was reported going smoothly.

Another extensive hold could mean a postponement for a day or longer, depending on a number of conditions. There is no official cutoff time for launch.

At least three hours of daylight is required in the landing area for recovery of the spacecraft. That meant that unless the Titan II rocket could be launched by about 3 p.m., the crew probably would have to try another day.

At 8:18 a.m., Mission Control said the problem had been solved, and the astronauts finally were awakened at 8:50, more than three hours later than originally planned.

The hold was first called at 5 a.m. and was continued several times. As the crew struggled with the problem, Cooper and Conrad remained in their sleeping quarters.

In the new fuel cell system, replacing the bulkier and heavier storage batteries used in earlier Gemini flights, hydrogen is mixed with liquid oxygen to produce electrons which are converted into electrical power.

An attempt was made to overload the fuel system to assure capacity at liftoff for the long mission. The goal was described as "104 per cent."

Finally, it was announced that the system had reached 101.5 per cent and this was judged acceptable.

The fuel cell system was installed in the spacecraft last July 23, after an earlier system failed to pass its tests.

The final countdown for man's longest space voyage was to have started at 6 a.m. The mission of the astronauts was to prove the ability of man to live in space as long as it will take to fly to the moon, explore its surface and return.

They also were to attempt the first rendezvous with another satellite.

Cooper, 38, an Air Force lieutenant colonel, and Conrad, 35, a Navy lieutenant commander, retired early Wednesday night in the crew quarters five miles from the launch pad.

The marathon Gemini 5 flight was to set many guidelines for future flights to the moon. Failure to obtain information of any of the planned exercises could toss a roadblock on the lunar expressway.

The scheduled flight time of 191 hours, 53 minutes approximately equaled that planned for the first U.S. manned lunar landing attempt scheduled in 1969. Medical experts believe it will lay to rest any lingering doubts about man's ability to survive in space for that long.

Much of the action and suspense of the flight was to be packed into the first six hours, when Cooper and Conrad were to chase a satellite across the sky.

During the second orbit they planned to eject the satellite which they call "Little Rascal," from an equipment bay in the Gemini 5. Cooper, the command pilot, will maneuver about 52 miles behind it and then—using a radar system, a computer and jet thrusters—will begin the pursuit.

The astronauts hope to move to within 20 feet of the 76-pound electronic pod during the fourth orbit, then circle it for more than an hour.

Gemini director Charles Mathews said the object of the exercise was to "obtain in-flight information on the operation of the computer and radar in solving the complex orbital mechanics involved in docking two vehicles in space."

Cooper said the test would be consdiered successful if the radar and computer worked and that Gemini 5 did not necessarily have to maneuver to within 20 feet of the satellite. He said he would consider 200 feet close enough if he wanted to save his fuel for the remainder of the flight.

Weirton Crash Kills 2

Registrars Increased In Vote Signup

5 More Counties In 3 States Have Been Designated

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government has ordered 10 more federal registrars into the South to register Negroes in five additional counties in Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana.

Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach, following the procedures set up by the new Voting Rights Act, designated the additional counties Wednesday night. Ten days ago he ordered 18 federal registrars into nine counties in the South to register voters without requiring literacy or similar tests.

The new counties are Jefferson Davis and Jones in Mississippi, Perry and Wilcox in Alabama and Ouachita Parish in Louisiana.

In the nine counties where examiners already are functioning, the number of persons they registered reached 16,492 by the close of business Wednesday, including 2,057 registered on that day alone. All of the federal registrars are Civil Service employes.

Katzenbach said the five newly designated counties "have continued to discriminate and have given no substantial indication that they will comply" with the voting rights measure.

He added, "When local officials demonstrate their willingness to deal fairly with Negro as well as white applicants, the examiners will be withdrawn promptly."

The Justice Department cited, as examples of failure to comply with the new law, the even more stringent application of proof of residence requirements to Negro applicants, denial of assistance to Negroes, advice to them to return in 30 days to see whether they have been successful, and holding up of registration on the ground there were no application forms.

Each of the newly designated counties, Katzenbach said, "has a long history of discrimination against Negro voting applicants."

Americans' Biggest Operation Of War

Marines Storm Peninsula, Kill 600 Of Communists

CHU LAI, Viet Nam (AP) — While Viet Cong survivors fled, a U.S. Marine officer said today American forces may have killed more than 600 of the Red enemy in the battle of the Van Tuong Peninsula.

Marine spokesmen said 552 Viet Cong bodies had been counted and casualties among the Marine regimental landing force that struck the entrenched guerrillas Wednesday were light.

But a U.S. military spokesman in Saigon said the Americans, fighting their biggest battle of the Viet Nam war, had suffered their heaviest loss of any single engagement in that war.

Maj. E. N. Snyder of Oceanside, Calif., operations officer for the 7th Regiment, said the estimate of more than 600 Viet Cong dead was based on aerial observation plus the body count.

The Marines were reported to have taken 50 prisoners.

The Marine regiment's intelligence officer, Maj. George H. Gentry Jr. of Fallbrook, Calif., estimated 1,200 guerrillas were in the combat zone and 800 others in the general area.

"I think some slipped out," said Col. Oscar F. Peatross of Raleigh, N.C., commander of the regiment. "However, the Viet Cong are no longer effective as fighting units in the area."

Snyder said several junks were seen taking on supplies and presumed Viet Cong and that one U.S. destroyer requested permission to fire on the junks. He said the request was denied because it was feared the gunfire would strike the pursuing Marines.

In other areas, the Viet Cong overran a district headquarters town and a special forces camp at Dak Sut, in the central highlands, and caused heavy casualties in an attack on a hamlet only 9 miles west of Saigon.

The fighting showed an increase of activity in the war after several days of relative quiet.

The Marines opened their operation on the Van Tuong Peninsula, 330 miles north of Saigon.

Robert Kallay, 17, whom police identified as the driver, was reported in "satisfactory" condition with shoulder injuries.

Police said the crash occurred about 9:15 p.m when Kallay apparently lost control on a section of Williams Dr., the road leading to the Williams Country Club.

The auto sideswiped a tree and then smashed into another tree, police said.

Officers said they were uncertain where the youths were headed.

Miss Weston, born Dec. 7, 1950, in Steubenville, was the daughter of Richard Weston and Genelle Frey Weston. She would have been a sophomore at Follansbee High School in September. She was a member of the Memorial Baptist Church of Weirton.

In addition to her parents, she leaves two brothers, Randolph Weston and Richard Weston, and a sister, Ruth Weston, all at home, and the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Frey of Weirton.

The Schwerha Mortuary in Weirton is arranging services.

Friends may call at the funeral home after 7:30 tonight.

Calm Restored To Violence-Torn Zone

Special Commission Eyed To Sift Los Angeles Riots

LOS ANGELES (AP) — With calm restored in the riot zone, government leaders concentrated today on an investigation of the causes and remedies for the violent Negro outbreak that cost 34 lives and $200 million in property loss.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown said he would announce the members of a special commission charged with finding a peaceful solution to racial strife in the sprawling Los Angeles metropolis. He said a top man has accepted the job as chairman.

Brown scheduled a 2 p.m. television broadcast for a "major extended statement" on the turmoil that began eight days ago in the Watts district of southeast Los Angeles.

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. was greeted Wednesday by heckling as well as friendly applause when the Negro civil rights leader toured the section.

"Burn, baby, burn," yelled one heckler at a meeting Dr. King addressed in a community center. That was the rallying cry of the burning and looting rioters during the disorder.

Negroes in the crowd told Dr. King they wanted Mayor Samuel W. Yorty and Police Chief William H. Parker to come to their neighborhoods and hear their complaints.

Statements by Yorty indicated bitterness between him and the state and federal leadership over antipoverty and relief measures.

Commenting on President Johnson's assignment of Undersecretary of Commerce LeRoy Collins to visit Los Angeles for an on the spot study of the riot causes, Yorty said:

"I don't believe he can do anything. He's a specialist in civil rights, which is not the issue here."

After Brown announced that 12,000 National Guard troops were being pulled out, Yorty said he regarded the withdrawal a mistake.

"I don't know what the governor's doing," Yorty said. "He's too busy with press relation and press conferences to tell me what he's going to do."

Brown said the withdrawal decision, leaving about 3,000 troops still on riot zone duty, was made after a meeting of state officers with Parker.

He said $1.77 million in federal funds has been released for a cleanup and repair program in south Los Angelees.

Collins said he was instructed by Prsident Johnson to remain in Los Angeles as long as he feels necessary to provide all available federal help.

GOP To Talk Of Finances At Ike's Farm

First Big Step To Strengthen Party For 1966 Elections

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — Big-money contributors to the Republican party gather today to talk about GOP finances at the farm of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

National GOP chairman Ray C. Bliss called it the first major move in a drive to strengthen the GOP for next year's elections.

Bliss said the conference would be "an important move toward our objective of placing the Republican National Finance Committee fund-raising program on a coordinated basis."

Party officials weren't talking about it in advance of the meeting, but they would clearly like to coordinate away the Republican offshoots busy collecting money for their own operations.

Bliss has said splinter groups hamper his effort to build party unity. And he put that label on the Free Society Association, the conservative organization set up with Barry Goldwater as its honorary chairman.

Lucius D. Clay, the party's new finance chairman, was to preside at the talks here and at a two-hour, early-morning session of the finance committee in Washington.

Clay has said he hopes eventually to get all Republican fund-raising programs under one roof—his.

Humphrey Says Negroes Nearing Economic Crisis

Training, Requirements Gap Widens

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey said today Negroes are on the verge of a major economic crisis, with the gap widening between their training and job requirements.

Humphrey said in a speech prepared for the White House conference on equal employment opportunity that nonwhite joblessness increased in July when the national employment rate fell to 4.5 per cent.

"Less than four per cent of the white working force was out of a job," he said, "but for adult nonwhites the unemployment rate actually increased.

"It is no exaggeration to say that nonwhites, principally Negroes, are on the verge of a major economic crisis. For the gap is widening between Negro education and training on the one hand, and the requirements of the labor market on the other.

"Three Negro men in five are unskilled or semiskilled. And more than half the Negro men over 25 have less than a grammar school education. In Northern industrial centers one out of every three Negro workers has suffered unemployment in the past few years. In some neighborhoods the unemployment rate among Negroes is as high as 40 per cent."

Graham, of Honolulu, entered the harbor nearly 24 hours earlier than expected. The Dove was at the end of a Coast Guard tow rope.

Young Graham said he had accepted the tow "for safety's sake."

The fair-haired youth said he didn't want to be "riding around there (off Diamond Head) in the dark."

He described the trip from San Pedro, Calif., as "pretty easy" for 23 of the 25 days. He said he was a little seasick the first two days.

Gemini Team Races Clock For Blastoff

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The Gemini 5 space team licked a pesky fueling problem today, then raced against time in an effort to launch Astronauts L. Gordon Cooper Jr. and Pete Conrad Jr. on man's longest space voyage.

Finally, it was announced that the system had reached 101.5 per cent and this was judged acceptable.

The fuel cell system was installed in the spacecraft last July 23, after an earlier system failed to pass its tests.

The final countdown for man's longest space voyage was to have started at 6 a.m. The mission of the astronauts was to prove the ability of man to live in space as long as it will take to fly to the moon, explore its surface and return.

They also were to attempt the first rendezvous with another satellite.

Cooper said the test would be consdiered successful if the radar and computer worked and that Gemini 5 did not necessarily have to maneuver to within 20 feet of the satellite. He said he would consider 200 feet close enough if he wanted to save his fuel for the remainder of the flight.

Registrars Increased In Vote Signup

5 More Counties In 3 States Have Been Designated

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government has ordered 10 more federal registrars into the South to register Negroes in five additional counties in Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana.

Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach, following the procedures set up by the new Voting Rights Act, designated the additional counties Wednesday night. Ten days ago he ordered 18 federal registrars into nine counties in the South to register voters without requiring literacy or similar tests.

The new counties are Jefferson Davis and Jones in Mississippi, Perry and Wilcox in Alabama and Ouachita Parish in Louisiana.

In the nine counties where examiners already are functioning, the number of persons they registered reached 16,492 by the close of business Wednesday, including 2,057 registered on that day alone. All of the federal registrars are Civil Service employes.

Katzenbach said the five newly designated counties "have continued to discriminate and have given no substantial indication that they will comply" with the voting rights measure.

He added, "When local officials demonstrate their willingness to deal fairly with Negro as well as white applicants, the examiners will be withdrawn promptly."

The Justice Department cited, as examples of failure to comply with the new law, the even more stringent application of proof of residence requirements to Negro applicants, denial of assistance to Negroes, advice to them to return in 30 days to see whether they have been successful, and holding up of registration on the ground there were no application forms.

Each of the newly designated counties, Katzenbach said, "has a long history of discrimination against Negro voting applicants."

GOP To Talk Of Finances At Ike's Farm

First Big Step To Strengthen Party For 1966 Elections

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — Big-money contributors to the Republican party gather today to talk about GOP finances at the farm of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

National GOP chairman Ray C. Bliss called it the first major move in a drive to strengthen the GOP for next year's elections.

Bliss said the conference would be "an important move toward our objective of placing the Republican National Finance Committee fund-raising program on a coordinated basis."

Party officials weren't talking about it in advance of the meeting, but they would clearly like to coordinate away the Republican offshoots busy collecting money for their own operations.

Bliss has said splinter groups hamper his effort to build party unity. And he put that label on the Free Society Association, the conservative organization set up with Barry Goldwater as its honorary chairman.

Lucius D. Clay, the party's new finance chairman, was to preside at the talks here and at a two-hour, early-morning session of the finance committee in Washington.

Clay has said he hopes eventually to get all Republican fund-raising programs under one roof—his.

California-To-Honolulu

Young Sailor Completes 2,400-Mile Pacific Trip

HONOLULU (AP) — Sixteen-year-old sailor Lee Graham — with only two kittens as companions — completed a 2,400-mile voyage from California to Honolulu Wednesday night and described the trip as "pretty easy."

Docking his 24-foot sailboat, the Dove, at Ala Wai Yacht Harbor in Waikiki, the teenager said, "I had no trouble."

The California-to-Hawaii voyage was the first lap of a proposed two-year solo trip around the world.

Graham, of Honolulu, entered the harbor nearly 24 hours earlier than expected. The Dove was at the end of a Coast Guard tow rope.

Young Graham said he had accepted the tow "for safety's sake."

The fair-haired youth said he didn't want to be "riding around there (off Diamond Head) in the dark."

He described the trip from San Pedro, Calif., as "pretty easy" for 23 of the 25 days. He said he was a little seasick the first two days.

More Relief In Sight In 'Cooler' Forecast

Things look even more promising for a real break in the heat wave, with some showers already having fallen today.

The forecast is for clearing and cooler tonight, with a low of between 55 and 60, and for fair and mild Friday.

Anything will be a relief from the 90 or higher readings which have had a firm grip on the district the last few days.

Brothers Get Continuances On Fraudulent Check Cases

Two district brothers charged with issuing fraudulent checks were granted continuances in their hearings today by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff to allow them to seek counsel.

Lester Donahue, 19, and Robert Earl Donahue, 23, both of Dresden Ave. Ext., were named in affidavits signed by Fred Rayl.

Granting the continuances, Judge Chertoff acted at the request of Atty. W. S. Foulks, chairman of an East Liverpool committee of the County Bar Association that seeks to make certain that any defendant in a felony charge will have counsel at his preliminary hearing. The attorney advised the court that the brothers are indigent and the bar association will seek to furnish them with counsel. The court granted the request and set the cases for Aug. 26.

Lester Donahue is accused of forging a $10 check on July 21. Drawn on the First National Bank, it listed Robert Earl Donahue as the payee and was signed with the name "Ray Campbell," the affidavit says.

Robert Earl Donahue is accused of "uttering and publishing as true and genuine" a $20 check drawn on the First National Bank. The affidavit says the check was issued on July 23, listing Robert Earl Donahue as the payee and also signed with the name "Ray Campbell."

In two similar cases, Judge Chertoff today dismissed affidavits at the request of the complaining witnesses, ordering the defendants to pay the costs.

He dismissed a charge in which Mrs. Betty L. Stark of Annesley Rd., Glenmoor, was accused of issuing a $17.65 check on April 30 to Loblaw Markets, Inc., "knowing she did not have sufficient funds in the bank." The check was written against an account at First National, according to the affidavit, signed by Gene Stockdale, a Loblaw official.

The judge also dismissed an affidavit in which Thomas F. Dickey, 620 Bradshaw Ave., was charged with issuing a $25 check to Loblaw's on July 1 "knowing that he had insufficient funds in his account."

Fred A. Hoback, a Loblaw official, filed the charge against Dickey. Questioned by the court, Dickey said he did not realize he had insufficient funds in his account.

Judge Chertoff lectured the two complaining witnesses for "using this court as a collection agency" for bad checks. He said that since restitution had been made in both cases, the officials were satisfied and wanted the charges withdrawn.

4 Are Injured In Motorbike, Car Collision

A 17-year-old motorbike driver was hospitalized and three other district residents were injured in a collision between the bike and a car on Route 170, west of Calcutta, Wednesday night.

Roger Clendenning, son of Ray Clendenning of 3255 Harding Ave., was in "fair" condition at City Hospital today with a deep laceration of the right hand and left knee and bruises of the shoulder and left hip.

Clarence Crable, 17, son of Irvin Crable of 607 Sanford Ave., a passenger on the motorbike, was treated at the hospital for a cut right knee and sprained left ankle.

Mrs. Alice Davis, 48, of 809½ Main St., Wellsville, and Lawrence Davis, 1, of 221 E. 3rd St. received possible neck injuries and bruises. They were passengers in the auto.

Officers said Davis made a left turn into a private driveway and his car was rammed in the side by the oncoming motorbike.

Davis was charged with failure to yield the right-of-way.

No one was injured in a collision between a car and wrecker truck on Route 30 about a mile north of the city limits yesterday afternoon.

The patrol said Lela Hargreaves, 24, of 932 Princeton Ave. was headed north in a 1964 coach and attempted to pass a wrecker truck driven by Carris Toothman, 50, of 130 Beechwood St.

Toothman, driving Al's Atlantic truck, changed lanes and the two vehicles collided, the patrol said, causing minor damage to the truck and moderate damage to the auto.

Clarence Crable, 17, son of Irvin Crable of 607 Sanford Ave., a passenger on the motorbike, was treated at the hospital for a cut right knee and sprained left ankle.

Mrs. Alice Davis, 48, of 809½ Main St., Wellsville, and Lawrence Davis, 1, of 221 E. 3rd St. received possible neck injuries and bruises. They were passengers in the auto.

Officers said Davis made a left turn into a private driveway and his car was rammed in the side by the oncoming motorbike.

Davis was charged with failure to yield the right-of-way.

No one was injured in a collision between a car and wrecker truck on Route 30 about a mile north of the city limits yesterday afternoon.

The patrol said Lela Hargreaves, 24, of 932 Princeton Ave. was headed north in a 1964 coach and attempted to pass a wrecker truck driven by Carris Toothman, 50, of 130 Beechwood St.

Toothman, driving Al's Atlantic truck, changed lanes and the two vehicles collided, the patrol said, causing minor damage to the truck and moderate damage to the auto.

Man Reports Beating At Route 30 Tavern

A 22-year-old West End man is in "fair" condition today at City Hospital with injuries which he said he received early this morning when he was beaten by two men at an area tavern.

Victor Elliott of 867 Fairview St. was admitted at 3:50 a. m. with the right side of his face and right eye swollen and discolored and bleeding from the mouth and nose, the hospital said.

Elliott told authorities he was at the Win, Place and Show Bar on Route 30 when an argument started and he was assaulted by two men he didn't know.

Hancock County deputies said they had no report of the incident.

Why Not Stay In Business?

If enough of its membership so votes, the Pleasant Valley Grange—the oldest in Columbiana County—will close its doors in September.

Having been associated with granges only through The Review's news columns, but having been impressed over the years by reports of their varied activities, we're taking the liberty of making an appeal that the grange members vote to continue operations.

Because of a situation that arose a few days ago, we feel a personal interest in the Pleasant Valley organization.

This is what took place. An excited—and somewhat irritated — correspondent phoned to find out what had happened to the story she turned in about the grange. The city desk recalled the story had been handled and should have appeared in the paper. A re-check showed the city desk right and the correspondent wrong.

From that point on the Pleasant Valley Grange has assumed a more important part in the lives of those who man The Review's "local" desk. To them it would be a personal loss should the grange disband.

And looking at it from a more sensible standpoint, there's no question that the loss would be even greater to the grange membership. A grange which has been in existence for 93 years can't help but be able to look back on years of service and many, many happy memories.

It should have the opportunity to look forward to at least 93 more years of such service.

It will have that opportunity if the members vote on Sept. 7 to keep the Pleasant Valley Grange active and enterprising. With that vote, however, must go a pledge to take a direct part in the program. A grange can be effective only in proportion to the time and effort expended by its members.

A Just Decision

Free enterprise has won a victory in the Common Pleas Court ruling ordering the East Liverpool Board of Health to issue a milk distribution permit to Fairmont Foods of Parkersburg, W. Va.

It is difficult to see how the decision rightfully could have been otherwise since, according to the records, the board's action in originally refusing such a permit was based principally on the reasoning of a majority of its members that there are too many distributors in the city already.

Look Who's Complaining!

President Sukarno of Indonesia, never one to miss an opportunity to shout defiance at the United States, has done it again.

In a speech during Indonesia's observance of its 20th anniversary of independence, Sukarno threatened to nationalize remaining U.S. property in Indonesia if the United States continues its "hostile attitude."

This is almost laughable.

BY "HOSTILE ATTITUDE," we presume Sukarno means U.S. refusal to extend foreign aid to Indonesia and continued criticism from this country of his campaign to crush the Malaysian Federation and his open flirtation with Communist China.

This is all very touching coming from the man who oversaw the sacking and burning of U.S. Information Service libraries last year and who has told the United States repeatedly, "go to hell with your aid."

In this regard, it is with satisfaction we note that Congress has retained in the foreign aid authorization bill the barriers to economic assistance to Indonesia.

While there are those who argue that withholding U.S. aid only drives Sukarno further into the Communist camp, we would point out that Indonesia was a steady client of both the Soviet Union and Red China long before American aid was canceled last year.

Up to that time, Sukarno, by performing a delicate balancing act of cold war neutrality, had managed to live in the best of two worlds. He kept the United States on the string to the tune of about $100 million a year and at the same time ran his obligation to the Soviet Union past the billion-dollar mark.

NOW THE GUISE of neutrality is gone. Sukarno has announced that he's throwing Indonesia into an alliance with Communist China, North Korea, North Viet Nam and Cambodia to build an "anti-imperialist axis."

Sukarno's complaints about the "hostile attitude" of the United States are about as ironic as the cries of "police brutality" from the rioters in Los Angeles.

Risky But Readable

For risking his neck by crossing the Atlantic in a boat not much bigger than a bathtub, Cleveland newsman Robert Manry is receiving the applause of multitudes on both sides of the ocean.

We'd like to add our applause with this comment: Even though it was a slightly whacky and reckless endeavor, it was fascinating, and reports on the progress of the tiny Tinkerbelle provided welcome relief from an otherwise gloomy assortment of summer news at home and abroad.

So, congratulations on your successful solo sailing, skipper, and thanks from your newspaper compatriots for supplying us with a good offbeat summer yarn.

Instant Learning

In Atlanta, a man ambitious to make $10,000 to $15,000 a year can pay $655 for a three-week course at a truck drivers training school.

At least, those figures are what the school reports its graduates earn.

A girl who wanted to be a legal secretary left a Texas college to enroll in a business school. "In college, the closest courses to what I wanted were pre-law," she said. At the business school, she was taught legal terminology and business law

This training comes under the heading of vocational education, and, as the nation's colleges get overstuffed with students, schools offering practical courses that lead directly to a job are becoming increasingly popular.

THIS YEAR, about 5.3 million full and part-time vocational students have enrolled for courses, some 1.6 million more than six years ago, according to the United States Office of Education. Estimates are that the figure will rise seven million by 1969.

"Not everyone needs a bachelor's degree," a business school executive told a House subcommittee on education last spring. "Not every job requires four years of education."

"The increasing percentage of students in accredited business schools with one or more semesters of college or university education reflects, in our opinion, the increasing realization by students, parents, teachers and guidance counselors that a quality post-high school education is available in terminal office education programs of one or two year," the executive noted.

He was, of course, making a case for the 222 Accredited business schools in this country. But, as the truck driver example shows, vocational institutions prepare students for many other jobs than office work.

Some 5,000 privately owned trade and technical schools are in operation in this country, and more are opening daily. The schools offer course that last from a few months to two years and charge tuition fees ranging from $200 to $1,500 a course.

ALMOST ALL of the students are fresh out of college. But a growing number have transferred from a regular four-year college, preferring compact, practical career training. For many of them, a liberal arts course represents educational frills that only mean a delay in achieving their goals.

Dr. Kenneth B. Hoyt, professor of education at the University of Iowa, works in the vocational guidance of specialty oriented students seeking training in trade, technical and business schools at the post-secondary school level.

In a study of 3,500 students of this type, he found that half of them paid for the courses "because here they study only what they need to know to obtain employment."

These are severely practical students. "Their educational motivations appear very real and very strong, but they are not like those of the typical college liberal arts students," he observed.

"They feel the primary reason they are in school is for purposes of acquiring job skills, which will allow them to enter and compete successfully in our increasingly complex educational society."

The result has been an educational revival that parallels 20th century American life. Schools for medical assistants, beauticians, computer operators abound, and their number and enrollment increase each year.

For instance, an Atlanta school of business has an enrollment of 700, up 35 per cent in two years. In Philadelphia, a school of beauty culture started a year ago, now has 40 students and expects 150 by September.

These special training schools gear their curriculum to get students successfully through their course once accepted, unlike colleges and universities which anticipate a high percentage of failures. Again, the emphasis is on the practical—a student pays money to be trained for a job and it is up to the school to deliver.

Virtually all respectable vocational, trade and technical school have a placement service. Some charge a fee, others provide the service free.

Odd Facts

Texas is the only state which may, by congressional statute, be divided into five parts if it so desires. There is, however, very little likelihood of this ever happening, because Texas and Texans live by its bigness.

Victoria Falls, in Africa, is 355 feet high and twice the height and nearly double the width of the more - publicized Niagara Falls. More than a half - million gallons of water plunge over these falls each second during flood season.

Kansas Seeks Test Of 14th Amendment

By DAVID LAWRENCE

The Fourteenth Amendment, which has been the source of authority for many court decisions and much legislation in recent years dealing with highly controversial questions involving states' rights, has been challenged as to its validity by the State of Kansas. Its attorney general, Robert C. Londerholm, has filed a brief with the Supreme Court of the United States alleging fraud and unconstitutional methods in putting through the amendment.

David Lawrence

The complaint has to do not at all with civil rights issues, but with a recent decision of the high court requiring various states, including Kansas, to reapportion their voting districts and to apply the formula of "one man, one vote" to the upper as well as the lower house of the state legislatures. The Fourteenth Amendment was specifically cited by the Supreme Court as the legal basis for its action.

The truth is that the Fourteenth Amendment was never ratified in a lawful manner, but the Supreme Court of the United States has constantly avoided or evaded taking any case that would require a ruling on the legality of the process used in its ratification. Instead, the high court has repeatedly decided cases under cases under the clauses of the Fourteenth Amendment and has merely "assumed" theoretically that the amendment is in force.

EVERY AMENDMENT remains in operation, of course, until it's repealed or until its mode of ratification is successfully challenged and a decision rendered by the Supreme Court. So, because of the court's failure to take a case involving the process of ratification itself — though accepting many cases involving an interpretation of the clauses of the Fourteenth Amendment in actual operation — there has been no determination of the main issue in dispute.

Secretary of State William Seward — whose office then had the duty to "proclaim" an amendment when its ratification had been completed — did so on July 20, 1868, with respect to the Fourteenth Amendment, but in language that expressed doubt and reservations as to the validity of the ratification.

Then Congress did an unprecedented thing — it passed a joint resolution directing the secretary of state to promulgate the "ratification." He complied at once.

The Kansas attorney general, in his brief, points out that of the 37 states in the Union when the Fourteenth Amendment was submitted by Congress to the states in June 1866 for approval or disapproval, legal adoption required that three fourths — or 28 states — ratify the amendment. Ten states, therefore, could block it. But by Feb. 1, 1867, Mr. Londerholm declares, 17 states had ratified and 11 had rejected it, and, as he says in his brief, "the Fourteenth Amendment thus was defeated."

ALTHOUGH THE WAR was over and the ratification in 1865 by the Southern States of the Thirteenth Amendment, abolishing slavery, had been accepted as valid, these same states were suddenly declared out of the Union by Congress in a law passed on March 2, 1867, known as the First Reconstruction Act. They were notified that, until they ratified the Fourteenth Amendment, they wouldn't be "readmitted" to the Union. Congress ordered new legislatures to be assembled. Military coercion was applied as troops were sent in some cases into the legislatures themselves. Corruption was rampant in choosing members of the legislatures, especially non - resident "carpetbaggers." In one case, a general presided over the legislature.

President Andrew Johnson, in his message vetoing the Reconstruction Act, said it was "in palpable conflict with the plainest provisions of the Constitution." Nevertheless it was passed over his veto. Many historians have concurred with him, notably such present - day authors as Samuel Eliot Morison and Henry Steele Commager — known as 'liberals" — who, in the book "The Growth of The American Republic," have written as follows:

"Johnson returned the bill with a scorching message arguing the unconstitutionality of the whole thing, and most impartial students have agreed with his reasoning."

WHENEVER CASES involving this issue have been filed with the Supreme Court for hearing, the court has invariably said that it was a "political question." Just recently, however, in accepting reapportionment cases, the high court delved into what it previously had held also to be a "political question." Indeed, some of the dissenting justices called attention to that precedent. So it may be that the high court, to be consistent, now has to open up the "political question" enveloping the "ratification" of the Fourteenth Amendment.

If the Supreme Court doesn't take the Kansas case, the American people have a right to demand that the Fourteenth Amendment be passed by a two-thirds vote on both houses of Congress, and be resubmitted promptly for legal ratification by three fourths of the state legislatures or state constitutional conventions.

Prosperity Moves Slowly Into Panama

By VICTOR RIESEL

PANAMA CITY, Panama

The sun was scorching last July 16, but it was not as searing as the printed political propaganda being distributed on board a ship slowly making its way through the Canal that day.

Victor Riesel

The vessel was the Soviet freighter Odessa. On entering the "big ditch" it took on the required number of deck hands and handlers supplied by the Panama Canal Co. These are Panamanian citizens, mostly. They help guide the ships from ocean to ocean. Then they get off. But this day, on orders from the Odessa's Communist captain, they were handed bitter anti-U.S. literature which in effect, advocated insurrection against America.

The Panamanians took the revolutionary propaganda — and once off the ship turned it over to the American canal officials. This unreported development now is being investigated.

FAR MORE IMPORTANT than the Soviets' efforts to disaffect Panama Canal workers is the action of these Panamanians just 18 months after the deadly riots of Jan. 9 to 12 during which four Americans and 21 Panamanians were killed. The riots have been forgotten. The rancor is gone, even if the bullet holes in Canal Zone buildings are not.

The attitude of the deck hands and line handlers is reflected in virtually all Panamanian society. It certainly was there in the attitude of President Marco Robles when I talked with him in the historic old Presidencia, where the patio is home to graceful plumed egrets.

President Robles, talking in clipped, staccato bursts, reacted swiftly when I asked whether Castro's Latin underground was giving his country any trouble.

"Not here, it doesn't," he snapped." I won't give them an inch. They just can't get started."

He was not just making tough talk for a visiting newsman. He simply was saying that his administration was a law and order government. Some demonstrations are expected. But the left wing unions and students must be orderly. If they start rioting they will be pushed right back into line.

AN HOUR before seeing President Robles, I had talked with Foreign Minister Fernando Eleta. The latter revealed that Panama was planning to order all of its ships (which make up the world's 11th largest merchant fleet) to end all runs to North Vietnamese ports.

President Robles confirmed this. He disclosed that Panama was studying means of slashing the trade with the enemy of the United States.

The Panamanian fleet already has been ordered not to go into Cuban waters.

President Robles and other government leaders indicated that thus Panama would lost millions of dollars, but it did not matter.

"We'll prosper because we now have a stable government," one cabinet member said. "Tell your country's businessmen that we welcome U.S. investments and go see for yourself that our unions are free to function, but they are responsible organizations."

IT'S ALL TRUE. Panama is just beginning to prosper. This becoming the Switzerland of the Western Hemisphere. Bank buildings are changing the skyline as swiftly as stage hands change a theatrical set. The biggest of U.S. banks are in and foreign financial houses are racing across from Europe.

But no reporter would be worth his typewriter if he did not drive from this Pacific side to Colon over on the Atlantic—where some of the continent's worst slums exist.

There the deck hands, the longshoremen, the line handlers live — if you can call it that. They pay $40 and $50 for a one-room "apartment." Families of seven and eight live in such tiny quarters. There is virtually no light at night — just a single electric bulb hanging from the center of the ceiling. There are no sanitary facilities as we know them. There is no kitchen The women cook on small kerosene stoves or over gadgets feeding on butane gas — out on the tiny balconies so characteristic of the small two-story wooden shacks built 50 and 60 years ago.

Note, please, that these are Panamanians who work for the Canal authority. They deserve better not only because they work for "us" but because they fall into a type of global fauna called humanity.

THERE IS LAND available for a housing development just four or five miles from the docks in the zone. There are architectual plans drawn from a housing project. It could not provide homes for all of the 1,800 waterfront employes. But it would be a good start. They have heard that American unions have funds for such projects. All that's needed for this one is a $3 million guaranteed loan. Yet they hear from no unions.

They do not denounce either their government or ours. They reject the underground Castroite network which is able to work itself into that Atlantic Coast city from time to time until it is exposed — often by the workers themselves.

They are not ashamed of their homes. They do not hesitate to invite the visitor in. They are ashamed of the world for passing them by.

They are like the workers with whom we sat in the Cafe Coca Cola on Santa Ana Plaza in Panama City. Within sight were the jobless in the square who have not yet been touched by the spreading prosperity.

But no one in the cafe, vortex of militant politics, said anything unkind to the visiting Americans.

They too wondered why the world seemed to pass them by.

This visiting American had no answer.

GRIN AND BEAR IT — By George Lichty

Letter To The Editor

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

I want to take this opportunity to agree with James Brennan, director of the Ohio Council for Education, on his statement that the school foundation bill offers a second - class program.

In your recent editorials of Aug. 13 and 17, you seem to imply that the new program is first - class simply because it is better than what Ohio has had in the past. It would not be hard to have a program better than Ohio has had in the past, but it is not first - class just because it is better.

The OCE presented the Plan for Educational Progress to the legislature, and will present it to the people in November.

The plan offers a program which does approach being first-class. This plan supplies money for many fields of education that were completely overlooked in the foundation bill and also increases the amounts for many other fields.

Also, this plan was prepared by teachers who know more about the needs of education, and are less worried about political implications, than do the members of the legislature.

The one "trouble" with the PEP proposal is that the OCE realized when writing it that Ohio has already borrowed too much and must finance these new proposals by a tax increase.

Therefore, the OCE proposal asks for the increase of the sales tax to 4 per cent, a very small tax increase for each individual but a large one statewide. This extra revenue would pay for the PEP proposal now and also would help to alleviate the problem of the legislature scraping around for money every two years and politicking with education in Ohio.

I feel that it is time that the people of Ohio realize that they need a much better educational program and that they can't get it for nothing.

'Soup Of Sorrow'

Portuguese fishermen on the Grand Banks call a soup made from codfish scraps the "soup of sorrow." Whoever eats it, they say, is bound to return to the foggy, treacherous waters.

The Portuguese have been eating the pungent soup and returning to the Grand Banks of Newfoundland for more than 450 years. The maritime nation still sends some 70 schooners and trawlers to the Banks every summer.

In 1965, the fishing fleet was joined by an unlikely new group of ships — totally uninterested in the staple codfish. The new vessels were exploring the vast Banks area — 147,000 square miles — for oil, the National Geographic Society reports.

The ships drilled for core samples and set off explosive charges for seismic reflection and refraction. Because of the importance of the Grand Banks fishery, the Canadian Department of Fisheries cooperated with the oil ships which represented U. S. and Canadian oil interests.

The Grand Banks are a part of the Atlantic continental shelf, extending about 450 miles off the southeast coast of Newfoundland.

Through The Years

THIRTY YEARS AGO—Mr. and Mrs. William Morlan and family, formerly of Signal, moved to the Switzer property at Elkton.

John P. Neill, superintendent of county schools, was elected president and Miss Jennie Loch secretary - treasurer of the Saratoga School Reunion Association during an annual meeting at Lisbon.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — A Youth Temperance Council was organized by the Victory Women's Christian Temperance Union of Wellsville, with Mrs. W. J. Baxter as director.

John L. Warren of Springfield, an Army veteran, was appointed head coach of football and basketball at David Anderson High School in Lisbon.

City Council took steps to restore city bus stops that had been abandoned as a wartime measure.

TEN YEARS AGO — Two part - time music instructors were appointed by the Beaver Local School Board of Education — John Weitzel of Alliance, former East Liverpool band director, and Mrs. Elaine Hickman of near Calcutta.

Paul V. Jones was named chairman of the parsonage committee of the Orchard Grove Community Methodist Church.

Donald C. Allen, new East Liverpool High School band director, was named music director of the First Presbyterian Church.

If enough of its membership so votes, the Pleasant Valley Grange—the oldest in Columbiana County—will close its doors in September.

Having been associated with granges only through The Review's news columns, but having been impressed over the years by reports of their varied activities, we're taking the liberty of making an appeal that the grange members vote to continue operations.

Because of a situation that arose a few days ago, we feel a personal interest in the Pleasant Valley organization.

This is what took place. An excited—and somewhat irritated — correspondent phoned to find out what had happened to the story she turned in about the grange. The city desk recalled the story had been handled and should have appeared in the paper. A re-check showed the city desk right and the correspondent wrong.

From that point on the Pleasant Valley Grange has assumed a more important part in the lives of those who man The Review's "local" desk. To them it would be a personal loss should the grange disband.

And looking at it from a more sensible standpoint, there's no question that the loss would be even greater to the grange membership. A grange which has been in existence for 93 years can't help but be able to look back on years of service and many, many happy memories.

It should have the opportunity to look forward to at least 93 more years of such service.

It will have that opportunity if the members vote on Sept. 7 to keep the Pleasant Valley Grange active and enterprising. With that vote, however, must go a pledge to take a direct part in the program. A grange can be effective only in proportion to the time and effort expended by its members.

A Just Decision

Free enterprise has won a victory in the Common Pleas Court ruling ordering the East Liverpool Board of Health to issue a milk distribution permit to Fairmont Foods of Parkersburg, W. Va.

It is difficult to see how the decision rightfully could have been otherwise since, according to the records, the board's action in originally refusing such a permit was based principally on the reasoning of a majority of its members that there are too many distributors in the city already.

Look Who's Complaining!

President Sukarno of Indonesia, never one to miss an opportunity to shout defiance at the United States, has done it again.

In a speech during Indonesia's observance of its 20th anniversary of independence, Sukarno threatened to nationalize remaining U.S. property in Indonesia if the United States continues its "hostile attitude."

This is almost laughable.

BY "HOSTILE ATTITUDE," we presume Sukarno means U.S. refusal to extend foreign aid to Indonesia and continued criticism from this country of his campaign to crush the Malaysian Federation and his open flirtation with Communist China.

This is all very touching coming from the man who oversaw the sacking and burning of U.S. Information Service libraries last year and who has told the United States repeatedly, "go to hell with your aid."

In this regard, it is with satisfaction we note that Congress has retained in the foreign aid authorization bill the barriers to economic assistance to Indonesia.

While there are those who argue that withholding U.S. aid only drives Sukarno further into the Communist camp, we would point out that Indonesia was a steady client of both the Soviet Union and Red China long before American aid was canceled last year.

Up to that time, Sukarno, by performing a delicate balancing act of cold war neutrality, had managed to live in the best of two worlds. He kept the United States on the string to the tune of about $100 million a year and at the same time ran his obligation to the Soviet Union past the billion-dollar mark.

NOW THE GUISE of neutrality is gone. Sukarno has announced that he's throwing Indonesia into an alliance with Communist China, North Korea, North Viet Nam and Cambodia to build an "anti-Imperialist axis."

Sukarno's complaints about the "hostile attitude" of the United States are about as ironic as the cries of "police brutality" from the rioters in Los Angeles.

Risky But Readable

For risking his neck by crossing the Atlantic in a boat not much bigger than a bathtub, Cleveland newsman Robert Manry is receiving the applause of multitudes on both sides of the ocean.

We'd like to add our applause with this comment: Even though it was a slightly whacky and reckless endeavor, it was fascinating, and reports on the progress of the tiny Tinkerbelle provided welcome relief from an otherwise gloomy assortment of summer news at home and abroad.

So, congratulations on your successful solo sailing, skipper, and thanks from your newspaper compatriots for supplying us with a good offbeat summer yarn.

Instant Learning

In Atlanta, a man ambitious to make $10,000 to $15,000 a year can pay $655 for a three-week course at a truck drivers training school.

At least, those figures are what the school reports its graduates earn.

A girl who wanted to be a legal secretary left a Texas college to enroll in a business school. "In college, the closest courses to what I wanted were pre-law," she said. At the business school, she was taught legal terminology and business law

This training comes under the heading of vocational education, and, as the nation's colleges get overstuffed with students, schools offering practical courses that lead directly to a job are becoming increasingly popular.

THIS YEAR, about 5.3 million full and part-time vocational students have enrolled for courses, some 1.6 million more than six years ago, according to the United States Office of Education. Estimates are that the figure will rise seven million by 1969.

"Not everyone needs a bachelor's degree," a business school executive told a House subcommittee on education last spring. "Not every job requires four years of education."

"The increasing percentage of students in accredited business schools with one or more semesters of college or university education reflects, in our opinion, the increasing realization by students, parents, teachers and guidance counselors that a quality post-high school education is available in terminal office education programs of one or two year," the executive noted.

He was, of course, making a case for the 222 Accredited business schools in this country. But, as the truck driver example shows, vocational institutions prepare students for many other jobs than office work.

Some 5,000 privately owned trade and technical schools are in operation in this country, and more are opening daily. The schools offer course that last from a few months to two years and charge tuition fees ranging from $200 to $1,500 a course.

ALMOST ALL of the students are fresh out of college. But a growing number have transferred from a regular four-year college, preferring compact, practical career training. For many of them, a liberal arts course represents educational frills that only mean a delay in achieving their goals.

Dr. Kenneth B. Hoyt, professor of education at the University of Iowa, works in the vocational guidance of specialty oriented students seeking training in trade, technical and business schools at the post-secondary school level.

In a study of 3,500 students of this type, he found that half of them paid for the courses "because here they study only what they need to know to obtain employment."

These are severely practical students. "Their educational motivations appear very real and very strong, but they are not like those of the typical college liberal arts students," he observed.

"They feel the primary reason they are in school is for purposes of acquiring job skills, which will allow them to enter and compete successfully in our increasingly complex educational society."

The result has been an educational revival that parallels 20th century American life. Schools for medical assistants, beauticians, computer operators abound, and their number and enrollment increase each year.

For instance, an Atlanta school of business has an enrollment of 700, up 35 per cent in two years. In Philadelphia, a school of beauty culture started a year ago, now has 40 students and expects 150 by September.

These special training schools gear their curriculum to get students successfully through their course once accepted, unlike colleges and universities which anticipate a high percentage of failures. Again, the emphasis is on the practical—a student pays money to be trained for a job and it is up to the school to deliver.

Virtually all respectable vocational, trade and technical school have a placement service. Some charge a fee, others provide the service free.

Odd Facts

Texas is the only state which may, by congressional statute, be divided into five parts if it so desires. There is, however, very little likelihood of this ever happening, because Texas and Texans live by its bigness.

Victoria Falls, in Africa, is 355 feet high and twice the height and nearly double the width of the more - publicized Niagara Falls. More than a half - million gallons of water plunge over these falls each second during flood season.

Kansas Seeks Test Of 14th Amendment

By DAVID LAWRENCE

The Fourteenth Amendment, which has been the source of authority for many court decisions and much legislation in recent years dealing with highly controversial questions involving states' rights, has been challenged as to its validity by the State of Kansas. Its attorney general, Robert C. Londerholm, has filed a brief with the Supreme Court of the United States alleging fraud and unconstitutional methods in putting through the amendment.

David Lawrence

The complaint has to do not at all with civil rights issues, but with a recent decision of the high court requiring various states, including Kansas, to reapportion their voting districts and to apply the formula of "one man, one vote" to the upper as well as the lower house of the state legislatures. The Fourteenth Amendment was specifically cited by the Supreme Court as the legal basis for its action.

The truth is that the Fourteenth Amendment was never ratified in a lawful manner, but the Supreme Court of the United States has constantly avoided or evaded taking any case that would require a ruling on the legality of the process used in its ratification. Instead, the high court has repeatedly decided cases under cases under the clauses of the Fourteenth Amendment and has merely "assumed" theoretically that the amendment is in force.

EVERY AMENDMENT remains in operation, of course, until it's repealed or until its mode of ratification is successfully challenged and a decision rendered by the Supreme Court. So, because of the court's failure to take a case involving the process of ratification itself — though accepting many cases involving an interpretation of the clauses of the Fourteenth Amendment in actual operation — there has been no determination of the main issue in dispute.

Secretary of State William Seward — whose office then had the duty to "proclaim" an amendment when its ratification had been completed — did so on July 20, 1868, with respect to the Fourteenth Amendment, but in language that expressed doubt and reservations as to the validity of the ratification.

Then Congress did an unprecedented thing — it passed a joint resolution directing the secretary of state to promulgate the "ratification." He complied at once.

The Kansas attorney general, in his brief, points out that of the 37 states in the Union when the Fourteenth Amendment was submitted by Congress to the states in June 1866 for approval or disapproval, legal adoption required that three fourths — or 28 states — ratify the amendment. Ten states, therefore, could block it. But by Feb. 1, 1867, Mr. Londerholm declares, 17 states had ratified and 11 had rejected it, and, as he says in his brief, "the Fourteenth Amendment thus was defeated."

ALTHOUGH THE WAR was over and the ratification in 1865 by the Southern States of the Thirteenth Amendment, abolishing slavery, had been accepted as valid, these same states were suddenly declared out of the Union by Congress in a law passed on March 2, 1867, known as the First Reconstruction Act. They were notified that, until they ratified the Fourteenth Amendment, they wouldn't be "readmitted" to the Union. Congress ordered new legislatures to be assembled. Military coercion was applied as troops were sent in some cases into the legislatures themselves. Corruption was rampant in choosing members of the legislatures, especially non - resident "carpetbaggers." In one case, a general presided over the legislature.

President Andrew Johnson, in his message vetoing the Reconstruction Act, said it was "in palpable conflict with the plainest provisions of the Constitution." Nevertheless it was passed over his veto. Many historians have concurred with him, notably such present - day authors as Samuel Eliot Morison and Henry Steele Commager — known as "liberals" — who, in the book "The Growth of The American Republic," have written as follows:

"Johnson returned the bill with a scorching message arguing the unconstitutionality of the whole thing, and most impartial students have agreed with his reasoning."

WHENEVER CASES involving this issue have been filed with the Supreme Court for hearing, the court has invariably said that it was a "political question." Just recently, however, in accepting reapportionment cases, the high court delved into what it previously had held also to be a "political question." Indeed, some of the dissenting justices called attention to that precedent. So it may be that the high court, to be consistent, now has to open up the "political question" enveloping the "ratification" of the Fourteenth Amendment.

If the Supreme Court doesn't take the Kansas case, the American people have a right to demand that the Fourteenth Amendment be passed by a two-thirds vote on both houses of Congress, and be resubmitted promptly for legal ratification by three fourths of the state legislatures or state constitutional conventions.

Prosperity Moves Slowly Into Panama

By VICTOR RIESEL

PANAMA CITY, Panama

The sun was scorching last July 16, but it was not as searing as the printed political propaganda being distributed on board a ship slowly making its way through the Canal that day.

Victor Riesel

The vessel was the Soviet freighter Odessa. On entering the "big ditch" it took on the required number of deck hands and handlers supplied by the Panama Canal Co. These are Panamanian citizens, mostly. They help guide the ships from ocean to ocean. Then they get off. But this day, on orders from the Odessa's Communist captain, they were handed bitter anti-U.S. literature which in effect, advocated insurrection against America.

The Panamanians took the revolutionary propaganda — and once off the ship turned it over to the American canal officials. This unreported development now is being investigated.

FAR MORE IMPORTANT than the Soviets' efforts to disaffect Panama Canal workers is the action of these Panamanians just 18 months after the deadly riots of Jan. 9 to 12 during which four Americans and 21 Panamanians were killed. The riots have been forgotten. The rancor is gone, even if the bullet holes in Canal Zone buildings are not.

The attitude of the deck hands and line handlers is reflected in virtually all Panamanian society. It certainly was there in the attitude of President Marco Robles when I talked with him in the historic old Presidencia, where the patio is home to graceful plumed egrets.

President Robles, talking in clipped, staccato bursts, reacted swiftly when I asked whether Castro's Latin underground was giving his country any trouble.

"Not here, it doesn't," he snapped." I won't give them an inch. They just can't get started."

He was not just making tough talk for a visiting newsman. He simply was saying that his administration was a law and order government. Some demonstrations are expected. But the left wing unions and students must be orderly. If they start rioting they will be pushed right back into line.

AN HOUR before seeing President Robles, I had talked with Foreign Minister Fernando Eleta. The latter revealed that Panama was planning to order all of its ships (which make up the world's 11th largest merchant fleet) to end all runs to North Vietnamese ports.

President Robles confirmed this. He disclosed that Panama was studying means of slashing the trade with the enemy of the United States.

The Panamanian fleet already has been ordered not to go into Cuban waters.

President Robles and other government leaders indicated that thus Panama would lost millions of dollars, but it did not matter.

"We'll prosper because we now have a stable government," one cabinet member said. "Tell your country's businessmen that we welcome U.S. investments and go see for yourself that our unions are free to function, but they are responsible organizations."

IT'S ALL TRUE. Panama is just beginning to prosper. This becoming the Switzerland of the Western Hemisphere. Bank buildings are changing the skyline as swiftly as stage hands change a theatrical set. The biggest of U.S. banks are in and foreign financial houses are racing across from Europe.

But no reporter would be worth his typewriter if he did not drive from this Pacific side to Colon over on the Atlantic—where some of the continent's worst slums exist.

There the deck hands, the longshoremen, the line handlers live — if you can call it that. They pay $40 and $50 for a one-room "apartment." Families of seven and eight live in such tiny quarters. There is virtually no light at night — just a single electric bulb hanging from the center of the ceiling. There are no sanitary facilities as we know them. There is no kitchen The women cook on small kerosene stoves or over gadgets feeding on butane gas — out on the tiny balconies so characteristic of the small two-story wooden shacks built 50 and 60 years ago.

Note, please, that these are Panamanians who work for the Canal authority. They deserve better not only because they work for "us" but because they fall into a type of global fauna called humanity.

THERE IS LAND available for a housing development just four or five miles from the docks in the zone. There are architectual plans drawn from a housing project. It could not provide homes for all of the 1,800 waterfront employes. But it would be a good start. They have heard that American unions have funds for such projects. All that's needed for this one is a $3 million guaranteed loan. Yet they hear from no unions.

They do not denounce either their government or ours. They reject the underground Castroite network which is able to work itself into that Atlantic Coast city from time to time until it is exposed — often by the workers themselves.

They are not ashamed of their homes. They do not hesitate to invite the visitor in. They are ashamed of the world for passing them by.

They are like the workers with whom we sat in the Cafe Coca Cola on Santa Ana Plaza in Panama City. Within sight were the jobless in the square who have not yet been touched by the spreading prosperity.

But no one in the cafe, vortex of militant politics, said anything unkind to the visiting Americans.

They too wondered why the world seemed to pass them by.

This visiting American had no answer.

Letter To The Editor

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

I want to take this opportunity to agree with James Brennan, director of the Ohio Council for Education, on his statement that the school foundation bill offers a second - class program.

In your recent editorials of Aug. 13 and 17, you seem to imply that the new program is first - class simply because it is better than what Ohio has had in the past. It would not be hard to have a program better than Ohio has had in the past, but it is not first - class just because it is better.

The OCE presented the Plan for Educational Progress to the legislature, and will present it to the people in November.

The plan offers a program which does approach being first-class. This plan supplies money for many fields of education that were completely overlooked in the foundation bill and also increases the amounts for many other fields.

Also, this plan was prepared by teachers who know more about the needs of education, and are less worried about political implications, than do the members of the legislature.

The one "trouble" with the PEP proposal is that the OCE realized when writing it that Ohio has already borrowed too much and must finance these new proposals by a tax increase.

Therefore, the OCE proposal asks for the increase of the sales tax to 4 per cent, a very small tax increase for each individual but a large one statewide. This extra revenue would pay for the PEP proposal now and also would help to alleviate the problem of the legislature scraping around for money every two years and politicking with education in Ohio.

I feel that it is time that the people of Ohio realize that they need a much better educational program and that they can't get it for nothing.

'Soup Of Sorrow'

Portuguese fishermen on the Grand Banks call a soup made from codfish scraps the "soup of sorrow." Whoever eats it, they say, is bound to return to the foggy, treacherous waters.

The Portuguese have been eating the pungent soup and returning to the Grand Banks of Newfoundland for more than 450 years. The maritime nation still sends some 70 schooners and trawlers to the Banks every summer.

In 1965, the fishing fleet was joined by an unlikely new group of ships — totally uninterested in the staple codfish. The new vessels were exploring the vast Banks area — 147,000 square miles — for oil, the National Geographic Society reports.

The ships drilled for core samples and set off explosive charges for seismic reflection and refraction. Because of the importance of the Grand Banks fishery, the Canadian Department of Fisheries cooperated with the oil ships which represented U. S. and Canadian oil interests.

The Grand Banks are a part of the Atlantic continental shelf, extending about 450 miles off the southeast coast of Newfoundland.

TEN YEARS AGO — Two part - time music instructors were appointed by the Beaver Local School Board of Education — John Weitzel of Alliance, former East Liverpool band director, and Mrs. Elaine Hickman of near Calcutta.

Paul V. Jones was named chairman of the parsonage committee of the Orchard Grove Community Methodist Church.

Donald C. Allen, new East Liverpool High School band director, was named music director of the First Presbyterian Church.

A. Apparently not. Statistics show that tuberculosis occurs no more often among asthmatics than among non-asthmatics.

Q. What is the duration, in days, of normal pregnancy?

A. Calculated from the last menstrual period, it has been variously given as 290 to 304 days. However, several years ago medical authorities testified before the Supreme Court of New York that a pregnancy extending for 355 days was "not impossible."

HERNIA

Q. Will exercise strengthen the stomach muscles and make a hernia go away?

A. No. The weak point in the abdomen consists of overlapping layers of fibrous tissue — not muscle—and fibrous tissue doesn't respond to exercise as does muscle. Anyone with a hernia who engages in strenuous exercise is inviting trouble. With certain exceptions, hernias should be corrected surgically.

Bringing Up A Family

By Dr. GARRY MYERS

Guidance Needed If Child Sells Articles

Some children may gain good experience when they sell things, like cookies for their Campfire Troop or the like. They do not then earn money for themselves. But some children not properly guided may begin to sell all sorts of things to their playmates. Often trouble ensues then. Some children are lured by advertisements to sell things for profit. Naturally they first think of the persons they know in the neighborhood as prospective buyers.

Dr. Garry Myers

Often these persons buy readily even when they don't want the goods offered and think them not worth the price. But they may buy from the child because they know him and his parents and wish to be kind.

Children who sell in this way may get some selling experience but they also get wrong values. They do not have to strive at selling as they would have to strive among total strangers.

—:—

BESIDES some who buy from the neighbor child feel they have been imposed upon. You would be wise if you forbade your child to answer advertisements of things to sell. If your child has already ordered the goods to sell and accepted the obligation to sell them, you might wisely make payment for them, if you can't return them before you forbid him to go further.

Aim to get over to your child from an early age that he should not trade or sell his own things to another child but should limit his buying and selling to that of normal commerce.

A mother from Missouri writes:

"Our son, 8, visited a farm last weekend and while there he caught everal large tadpoles. Some had already started developing legs. Since we felt this was something that would be of interest to all the children in his second grade room we let him take them to school.

"When he returned from school I inquired whether the children like them. He said, 'Oh they really liked them and I sold some for 25c each.'

—:—

"WE FEEL that this was too much money for him to get for them and we really feel he should not have sold them at all but have given them to the boys who wanted them. However, we don't want to discourage his ambition and enterprise.

"We would appreciate your views as this is not the first time this has happened and it will probably not be the last. Anytime he finds something unusual or odd he tries to sell it. In one instance he sold odd-looking seeds. He started out by asking a dime each but when no one bought them he lowered his priced to a cent and sold several.

"Sometimes when he tells us of his plans to sell something we tell him that we fell it would not be right, but again we have mixed feelings. He usually sells to boys and girls his own age or older, so we don't feel he is taking advantage of anyone.

"He is in the high second grade but has some trouble keeping his grades up because he daydreams a lot. He is very imaginative and likes to make things with his hands. His best subject is math which he enjoys. He is the oldest child, having a brother, six, and a sister, three."

MY REPLY in part:

It's fine that you encourage your boy to observe and enjoy creatures of nature, but you defeat your purpose when you let him sell things he collects. I suggest you make clear to him that he must not sell anything to other children.

Read a great deal to this boy, you and Dad, and have fun with him. It would be fine if he would read to his baby sister. Then he would read easy material and greatly improve his reading. Encourage him to play with other children his age.

My bulletin, "Your Child and His Playmates," may be secured by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Dissident Teamsters Claim Steward Beaten

CLEVELAND (AP) — Dissident members of Local 73 of the Teamsters Union have claimed a former union steward at Hupp Corp. was beaten by members loyal to union president John J. Felice.

Police said Wednesday that the steward, Dennis Taylor, 31, was treated at Huron Road Hospital for cuts around both eyes. Taylor refused to name his assailants, police said, but indicated the fight Monday night was a result of union trouble.

Approved By Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill to provide $10,000 in free insurance for American military personnel in Viet Nam and other combat zones has gone to the House after receiving voice vote approval Wednesday in the Senate.

The legislation results from refusal of many life insurance companies to write polices for men already in Viet Nam or alerted to move there.

County Receives $11,057 For Fair From State Fund

Columbiana County has been allocated $11,057 of a record $926,626 distributed by the state of Ohio in financial assistance to the 93 county and independent fairs which currently are holding or preparing to hold their annual expositions.

Of the overall boost in revenues distributed, $102,178 was attributed to the marked increase in the receipts of the Ohio Fairs Fund, which consists of revenues derived from the tax of one - half of 1 per cent upon horse race wagering. This was paid last March

Balance of the distribution came from two other sources. One was the outright legislative grant of $1,000 for each county and independent fair, either for track premiums or for premiums incident to junior fairs promoting agricultural products, and the other was the $35,574 which was refunded to 26 tracks in the state which conducted pari - mutuel wagering. This refund was made last November.

Reunion Planned For Ohio's 37th

COLUMBUS — Veterans of Ohio's 37th Division, who fought with distinction and honor in both world wars and the Korean conflict, will get together again here Sept. 3, 4 and 5 during a reunion at the Nationwide Inn, with families also attending.

Maj. Gen. Robert S. Beightler, retired, will be among those present.

Chester W. Wolfe is president of the 37th Division Association.

Executive Secretary Jack C. Wander, who has charge of the 37th Division Association office in the Wyandotte Building here, says he feels the association will adopt a resolution at the reunion vigorously protesting the proposed action of the Defense Department to wipe out the famed Buckeye Division and substituting a brigade of approximately 5,000 troops who will operate with another division.

6 Ex-Nazi SS Guards Get Life Terms In Prison

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — Six former Nazi SS guards and functionaries of the Auschwitz concentration camp were sentenced to the maximum term of life in prison today on charges of mass murder or aiding in the wartime mass murder of Auschwitz inmates.

Eleven others drew prison terms ranging from 14 years to 3 years and 3 months. Three were acquitted.

The verdicts came after a 20-month trial, the longest and largest in German legal history.

Several Auschwitz survivors were in the audience that listened tensely as presiding Judge Hans Hofmeyer read out the sentences.

Millions of people died at Auschwitz, the huge sprawling camp complex the Nazis set up in southern Poland during World War II to exterminate "racially undesirables."

Most of the victims were Jews. But many Poles, Russians and others also were gassed, shot, hanged, burned, starved or tortured to death. Auschwitz was the largest of Nazi extermination camps.

Clampdown Set On Water Meters

All water meters read from now on will immediately be sealed by the readers and are not to be opened without special permission, Fred Baldasare, Wellsville safety - service director, has announced.

He said meters will continue to be read quarterly, notations made and then sealed immediately. He cautioned that no plumbers, home owners or tenants are to break the seals without permission from the city.

Any seals broken without permission must be accounted for and violators will be prosecuted under the tampering ordinance, he said.

Baldasare also disclosed that Ralph Grafton, water department clerk, has reported the collection for the current period the highest in the 16 years he has been with the department.

Baldasare reported that faulty meters, which haven't worked properly for years, have been replaced in several homes.

Reconstruction Work OKd On 2 Ohio Roads

WASHINGTON (AP) — Approval of reconstruction work on two access roads in Ohio was announced Wednesday by the Appalachian Regional Commission, meeting in Gatlinburg, Tenn.

The Ohio projects will consist of reconstructing 2.3 miles of a road serving Rocky Fork Lake State Park in Highland County, and 2.5 miles serving Atwood Lake Lodge and recreation area in Carroll County.

Cost of the Highland County project is estimated at $305,000, of which the federal share will be $213,000. The Carroll County project will cost $185,000, of which the federal share will be $129,500.

Beaver Gets Planning Advance For Project

WASHINGTON — The Community Facilities Administration has approved an advance of $6230 to Beaver Borough for planning of improvements to its sewage treatment plant.

The agency said the $102,950 project will prevent river flooding at the plant site and correct a potential safety hazard to children.

New York's Water Shortage Brings Unusual Side Result

NEW YORK (AP) — This city's water shortage is having an unexpected side result—it's got people struggling with windows that haven't been opened in years.

What they're looking for is fresh air.

It's a result of the city's limited ban on the use of air conditioning systems that use water for cooling. Restrictions imposed last week limit use to about six hours a day.

The ban came along as New York broiled. Temperatures have reached the 90s at midday and the humidity seems nearly as bad.

Two shifts of 75 city inspectors are checking for violations and informing building managers of the restrictions.

The first summons went Wednesday to a commercial building in which the principal tenants are the Federal Bureau of Investigation and the New York Telephone Co.

Inspector William L. Walker stepped into the lobby of the building at 201 E. 69th St. and noticed something wrong immediately—the lobby was cool. The cooling of lobbies by systems using water is prohibited at all times.

Walker issued a summons to the building management, Wellington Associates.

Governor Hits Trail Today For Northwest Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. James A. Rhodes hits another "Wonderful World of Ohio" trail today — this one taking him through the northwestern corner of the state.

The governor, newsmen and the usual assortment of historical buffs left by bus shortly after dawn, with their first stop scheduled at West Liberty in Logan County for breakfast.

The tour is one of several the governor has made around Ohio this summer to promote the state's tourist business.

Today's agenda also includes a stop at Bellefontaine for a view of the first cement street built in the United States, a visit of a radar station at the state's highest elevation in Logan County, a tour of Indian Lake spots, a visit to the Allen County museum in Lima, a tour of a cheese plant at Wapakoneta, a boat tour of Grand Lake St. Marys and a visit to the historical museum and the Liederkrantz Cheese Co. plant in Van Wert.

The party planned to tour the Toledo Zoo late this afternoon and then spend the night in Toledo.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Approval of reconstruction work on two access roads in Ohio was announced Wednesday by the Appalachian Regional Commission, meeting in Gatlinburg, Tenn.

The Ohio projects will consist of reconstructing 2.3 miles of a road serving Rocky Fork Lake State Park in Highland County, and 2.5 miles serving Atwood Lake Lodge and recreation area in Carroll County.

Cost of the Highland County project is estimated at $305,000, of which the federal share will be $213,000. The Carroll County project will cost $185,000, of which the federal share will be $129,500.

Beaver Gets Planning Advance For Project

WASHINGTON — The Community Facilities Administration has approved an advance of $6230 to Beaver Borough for planning of improvements to its sewage treatment plant.

The agency said the $102,950 project will prevent river flooding at the plant site and correct a potential safety hazard to children.

New York's Water Shortage Brings Unusual Side Result

NEW YORK (AP) — This city's water shortage is having an unexpected side result—it's got people struggling with windows that haven't been opened in years.

What they're looking for is fresh air.

It's a result of the city's limited ban on the use of air conditioning systems that use water for cooling. Restrictions imposed last week limit use to about six hours a day.

The ban came along as New York broiled. Temperatures have reached the 90s at midday and the humidity seems nearly as bad.

Two shifts of 75 city inspectors are checking for violations and informing building managers of the restrictions.

The first summons went Wednesday to a commercial building in which the principal tenants are the Federal Bureau of Investigation and the New York Telephone Co.

Inspector William L. Walker stepped into the lobby of the building at 201 E. 69th St. and noticed something wrong immediately—the lobby was cool. The cooling of lobbies by systems using water is prohibited at all times.

Walker issued a summons to the building management, Wellington Associates.

Governor Hits Trail Today For Northwest Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. James A. Rhodes hits another "Wonderful World of Ohio" trail today — this one taking him through the northwestern corner of the state.

The governor, newsmen and the usual assortment of historical buffs left by bus shortly after dawn, with their first stop scheduled at West Liberty in Logan County for breakfast.

The tour is one of several the governor has made around Ohio this summer to promote the state's tourist business.

Today's agenda also includes a stop at Bellefontaine for a view of the first cement street built in the United States, a visit of a radar station at the state's highest elevation in Logan County, a tour of Indian Lake spots, a visit to the Allen County museum in Lima, a tour of a cheese plant at Wapakoneta, a boat tour of Grand Lake St. Marys and a visit to the historical museum and the Liederkrantz Cheese Co. plant in Van Wert.

The party planned to tour the Toledo Zoo late this afternoon and then spend the night in Toledo.

The next Neighborhood meeting will be a luncheon at the home of Miss Morris of 1498 Mick Rd. Wednesday at 12:30 p. m. It is for all troop leaders, assistant leaders and committee members. WASHINGTON (AP)— Ohio's two Democratic U.S. senators cast opposite votes Wednesday as the Senate defeated, 59-30, an amendment to the antipoverty bill to force Sargent Shriver to give up either his job as head of the war on poverty or of the Peace Corps.

Sen. Frank J. Lausche voted for the amendment, while Sen. Stephen M. Young voted against.

More News In Color

The gold rush of television to the end of the rainbow continues.

"The Huntley - Brinkley Report," NBC announced, will go to color Nov. 15. It is the first network evening news program to make the plunge.

"The Sherer - MacNeil Report," a Saturday half hour which makes its debut Oct. 23, tints up Nov. 20.

"Sunday," returned as a Sunday half hour Sept. 19, will be telecast "largely in color."

-:-

THE MOVES bring color to NBC News seven days a week. "Today" begins studio and major segment color Sept. 13. Forty of the network's 50 planned specials will be colorcast.

The announcement conservatively said that studio originations of Chet Huntley in New York and David Brinkley in Washington and pre-planned news features and pickups from NBC-owned stations in Washington, Chicago and Burbank Calif., will be in color.

But NBC newsman privately expect most of the news to be hued by the end of the year.

It was learned unofficially that two breakthroughs supporting that confidence have accelerated the switch from monochrome.

-:-

FIRST is Eastman Kodak's and Ansco's development of a process making it possible to laminate sound on color film.

The second is that overwhelming demand has prodded manufacturers to hurry construction of color processors.

By the time of the Huntley-Brinkley change, NBC expects to have several in-plant processors at key NBC headquarters across the country and a plentiful supply of laminated-sound color film. About 80 per cent of Viet Nam coverage then will be shot in color.

It's reported also that color processing has been speeded up almost to the rate of black and white, but that the problem is scarcity of labs.

-:-

IN THE NEW YORK area the major labs are at Fairlawn and Union, N.J., a fair motorcycle ride from the network news desks in midtown Manhattan.

The mystery of WCBS - TV, telecasting color news features in recent weeks, despite a general CBS lag in color, is that the station has the processing services of the only in-town color lab.

Where labs have been close, as in Dallas and New Orleans, an NBC source said, portions of color news film have been telecast for the last three to four years.

-:-

THE FIRST-WEEK guest list of ABC's "The Young Set," the 11 a.m. to noontime informal discussion for the housewife, sounds like a page out of a publicity manual on the current availables for TV appearances.

On deck the debut week of Sept. 6 are Mrs. Winthrop Rockefeller, Helen Gurley Brown, Baby Jane Holzer, Florence Henderson, Peter Duchin, Sydney Chaplin, Liza Minelli, Killer Joe Piro, Robert Horton, Zina Bethune, Walter Matthau, and Rita Moreno.

The hostess is Phyllis Kirk, and her week-long guest is Sybil (the others will be sorted out daily). Anyone asking "Sybil who?" is just a campy put-on.

-:-

IN SHORT: CBS-TV's "National Drivers Test," which is being retelecast Aug. 30, has been distributed and shown overseas to the Armed Forces ... The National Educational Television network this fall is bringing back "The Friendly Giant," a children's show last seen in this country eight years ago (except for reruns). NET figures the show, now 15 minutes five days a week on the Canadian Broadcasting Corp. network, has a new audience. Creator Robert Homme still plays the giant.

More News In Color

The gold rush of television to the end of the rainbow continues.

"The Huntley - Brinkley Report," NBC announced, will go to color Nov. 15. It is the first network evening news program to make the plunge.

"The Sherer - MacNeil Report," a Saturday half hour which makes its debut Oct. 23, tints up Nov. 20.

"Sunday," returned as a Sunday half hour Sept. 19, will be telecast "largely in color."

-:-

THE MOVES bring color to NBC News seven days a week. "Today" begins studio and major segment color Sept. 13. Forty of the network's 50 planned specials will be colorcast.

The announcement conservatively said that studio originations of Chet Huntley in New York and David Brinkley in Washington and pre-planned news features and pickups from NBC-owned stations in Washington, Chicago and Burbank Calif., will be in color.

But NBC newsman privately expect most of the news to be hued by the end of the year.

It was learned unofficially that two breakthroughs supporting that confidence have accelerated the switch from monochrome.

-:-

FIRST is Eastman Kodak's and Ansco's development of a process making it possible to laminate sound on color film.

The second is that overwhelming demand has prodded manufacturers to hurry construction of color processors.

By the time of the Huntley-Brinkley change, NBC expects to have several in-plant processors at key NBC headquarters across the country and a plentiful supply of laminated-sound color film. About 80 per cent of Viet Nam coverage then will be shot in color.

It's reported also that color processing has been speeded up almost to the rate of black and white, but that the problem is scarcity of labs.

-:-

IN THE NEW YORK area the major labs are at Fairlawn and Union, N.J., a fair motorcycle ride from the network news desks in midtown Manhattan.

The mystern of WCBS - TV, telecasting color news features in recent weeks, despite a general CBS lag in color, is that the station has the processing services of the only in-town color lab.

Where labs have been close, as in Dallas and New Orleans, an NBC source said, portions of color news film have been telecast for the last three to four years.

-:-

THE FIRST-WEEK guest list of ABC's "The Young Set," the 11 a.m. to noontime informal discussion for the housewife, sounds like a page out of a publicity manual on the current availables for TV appearances.

On deck the debut week of Sept. 6 are Mrs. Winthrop Rockefeller, Helen Gurley Brown, Baby Jane Holzer, Florence Henderson, Peter Duchin, Sydney Chaplin, Liza Minelli, Killer Joe Piro, Robert Horton, Zina Bethune, Walter Matthau, and Rita Moreno.

The hostess is Phyllis Kirk, and her week-long guest is Sybil (the others will be sorted out daily). Anyone asking "Sybil who?" is just a campy put-on.

-:-

IN SHORT: CBS-TV's "National Drivers Test," which is being retelecast Aug. 30, has been distributed and shown overseas to the Armed Forces . . . The National Educational Television network this fall is bringing back "The Friendly Giant," a children's show last seen in this country eight years ago (except for reruns). NET figures the show, now 15 minutes five days a week on the Canadian Broadcasting Corp. network, has a new audience. Creator Robert Homme still plays the giant.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I'd like to say a word or two about that woman who signed herself "Screaming Mimi." She's the wife who was burned up because her husband who worked the midnight shift had the habit of saying to her, when he left the house to go to work, "Now go right to bed honey." Mimi wrote: "Where in the world WOULD I be going at that hour?"

I'm a husband who worked the midnight shift, too. I never told my wife to go straight to bed, but maybe that's where I made my big mistake. She found plenty of places to go at that hour — like every tavern and dance hall in town.

The worst part of it was that she left our kids, 9 and 6 years of age, alone in the apartment. It took me almost two years to catch up with her. When I did I really laid down the law.

So, Ann Landers, when a man leaves for the midnight shift and tells his wife to go straight to bed, why don't you stay out of it? Maybe he knows her better than you do. — MR. EXPERIENCE.

-:-

Dear Mr.: Thanks for the clue. I consider myself properly told off.

Unhealthy Devotion

Dear Ann: Several weeks ago our son was killed in an accident. Cal was 25 years old. He spoke often of a young woman I will call Marie. My husband and I had never met Marie or her people.

The day before the funeral Marie came to our home and told us that she and Cal had planned to be married at Christmas. She said her life was as good as over and she wished she had died with our son.

The poor girl fainted during services and had to be carried out. My husband and I were having a difficult time keeping our composure and she did not make it any easier for us.

Every night after work Marie goes to the cemetery and puts a red rose on Cal's grave. She telephones me every evening and comes over about three times a week. She insists on helping me clean house, wants to cook and bake for the family, run errands. Anything to feel close to Cal, she says.

My husband and I are slowly recovering from our grief but this girl's presence is a constant reminder of our grief and we'd prefer to see less of her. What is your advice? — MRS. B.

Dear Mrs. B.: Marie needs professional help. Urge her to get it. The girl's devotion to you is unhealthy.

Hanging around Cal's family helps feed the fantasy that he is still alive. It's not good for her or you. When she gets the help she needs her doctor will insist she cut down her visits to your place, and the problem will be solved.

Two-Bit Problems

Dear Ann: I read your column just to see what some people in this world consider "a problem." Honestly, with all the terrible things that are happening in the world, it's amazing how some idiot woman can write and ask what to do about a husband who puts ketchup on his mashed potatoes.

My old man used to empty bottles, too — but it wasn't ketchup he was hooked on. It was gin. My mother had to work to support the family and we were lucky if there was enough to eat. I'd give that lady ketchup all right . . . one tomato at a time. — SICK OF TWO-BIT WHINERS.

-:-

Dear Sick: Thanks for putting my thoughts into your words.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self - addressed envelope.

Ohio Power Tops Electric Firms In Safety Program

CANTON, Ohio — Increased awareness of safety precautions is paying big dividends for the Ohio Power Co.

The company, ninth in its classification a year ago in the National Safety Council reports, topped the list of electric utility firms in its category at the end of the first six months of 1965. The company is in competition with others averaging more than 500,000 man-hours monthly.

Council statistics placed Ohio Power first on the basis of its 1.24 frequency rate. The frequency rate indicates the company has had less than one and one-quarter disabling accidents per million manhours worked from January through June.

E. B. Bell, Ohio Power director of safety, said the accident severity rate of the company also is averaging out at 32 days disability per million manhours worked, placing the company among the safest in the industry.

The company's vehicle accident rate also is the best in Ohio among utility firms, Bell said. Ohio Power drivers, both truck and automobile, are averaging only 8.97 accidents per million miles of driving.

Ohio Power Tops Electric Firms In Safety Program

CANTON, Ohio — Increased awareness of safety precautions is paying big dividends for the Ohio Power Co.

The company, ninth in its classification a year ago in the National Safety Council reports, topped the list of electric utility firms in its category at the end of the first six months of 1965. The company is in competition with others averaging more than 500,000 man-hours monthly.

Council statistics placed Ohio Power first on the basis of its 1.24 frequency rate. The frequency rate indicates the company has had less than one and one-quarter disabling accidents per million manhours worked from January through June.

E. B. Bell, Ohio Power director of safety, said the accident severity rate of the company also is averaging out at 32 days disability per million manhours worked, placing the company among the safest in the industry.

The company's vehicle accident rate also is the best in Ohio among utility firms, Bell said. Ohio Power drivers, both truck and automobile, are averaging only 8.97 accidents per million miles of driving.

Phils Drop Dodgers, 6-3; Braves Take Over No. 1 Spot

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Umpire Chris Pelekoudas said Hank Aaron's home run wasn't before it started, and the St. Louis Cardinals said Don Dillard's wasn't after it finished.

The Milwaukee Braves, objects of both opinions, settled for one of the homers Wednesday night, a 5-3 victory over St. Louis and first place in the National League.

The triumph moved the Braves one-half game ahead of the Los Angeles Dodgers, who lost to Philadelphia 6-3 in 12 innings.

Both Braves' blasts came with the game tied 3-3.

Aaron's sailed onto the right field pavilion roof, but he never got a chance to circle the bases. Pelekoudas stopped him by declaring him out. The home plate umpire said Aaron had run out of the batter's box before he hit the change up from Curt Simmons.

"It's the worst call I've ever seen," Aaron said after the game. "I did the same thing the time before and popped up, and he didn't say a word. I always hit Simmons that way."

Milwaukee Manager Bobby Bragan was thrown out of the game after arguing vehemently. "It was either a grudge call, or he wanted to get his name in the paper," Bragan said. "I've never seen such a call."

But Pelokoudas said there was no question in his mind that Aaron hit the ball illegally.

"Bragan's protest was strictly on judgment," the umpire said. "His only argument was about a grudge and that is stupid. I didn't hesitate in making the call."

The situation hardly had settled when pinch hitter Dillard ignited it again. Two outs after Gene Oliver beat out an infield single in the ninth inning, Dillard clouted a Ray Washburn pitch to the right-center field wall. The Cardinals argued that the hit was not a home run but had hit the wall and was in play.

Umpire Bill Jackowski, however, ruled that the ball hit the top of the wall, bounced off a fan in the stands, then came back onto the field.

Dillard's first home run since Aug. 26, 1963, stood, and the Braves were in first place for the first time since opening day.

In other NL games, San Francisco blanked New York 5-0 and Pittsburgh edged Houston 8-7. Rain washed out Cincinnati and Chicago.

Tony Cloninger won his eighth straight game and brought his record to 18-8, stopping the Cardinals on six hits. He retired 15 straight batters until Curt Flood singled in the sixth. Flood moved to second on an infield out and scored the tying run as Ken Boyer singled.

Dick Stuart's three-run double in the 12th inning following Maury Wills' two-out fumble of Rich Allen's grounder toppled the Dodgers from the lead for the first time since July 16.

Sandy Koufax was seeking his 22nd victory but was knocked from the mound in the eighth when the Phillies tied the game 3-3 on run-scoring singles by Allen and Stuart. Willie Davis hit a two-run homer for Los Angeles.

Juan Marichal pitched a three-hitter, bringing his record to 19-9 with his ninth shutout of the season, fourth over the Mets. New York didn't get a hit until Roy McMillan singled with two out in the sixth. Willie Mays hit his 34th home run in the San Francisco first.

Manny Mota drove in four runs, three with a fifth-inning double, as Pittsburgh built an 8-1 lead. But Houston exploded for six runs in the ninth, two on Ron Brand's homer and another pair on a single by Walt Bond. Al McBean finally ended the rally by getting Brand to hit into a double play.

Spain Completes Shutout Of U. S.

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

BARCELONA, Spain (AP) — Spain is headed for its first challenge round and the United States is back to mending fences in the Davis Cup tennis competition.

The Spanish, led by the spectacular Manuel Santana, completed a 3-0 shutout of the Americans in the interzone final by winning the doubles here Wednesday. Now they play India — probably in India — for the right to take on Australia in December.

The Yanks will be denied their summer Christmas in Sydney. For the third time in five years, they have been stopped short of the challenge round.

Questions come to the front again.

What's the future of Dennis Ralston, the No. 1 player from Bakersfield, Calif., who proved such a disappointment?

Must the Davis Cup preparations and team training be revised, suggested by losing Capt. George MacCall of Los Angeles?

Where is the new talent coming from?

Ralston has failed to come through in the big match on repeated occasions — as in his opening day loss here to rookie Juan Gisbert — and, as a result, may lose his No. 1 position on the team unless he can whip the opening day nerves that seem to plague him.

The hot-tempered youngster may save the U.S. brass the trouble of such a decision by deciding to give the whole thing away.

He has told friends privately that tennis can become a tedious grind and he might retire — as his pal, Chuck McKinley did recently — and play only scattered tournamets.

The final match of the interzone series between Dennis and Antana may affect that decision. The two top players of their respective teams clash after Frank Froehling III of Coral Gables, Fla., and Juan Gisbert meet in the first of two closings singles matches that now mean nothing.

Spain clinched the interzone tie when Santana and Jose Luis Arilla rallied from two sets down and a 1-4 and 2-5 deficit in the final set for a three-hour victory over Ralston and Clark Graebner of Cleveland Ohio, Wednesday, 4-6, 3-6, 6-3, 6-4, 11-9.

Rams Also Will Play Jim Brown At Fullback

PALO ALTO, Calif. (AP)—Professional football fans will see Jim Browns coming and going when the Los Angeles Rams host the Cleveland Browns in an exhibition game Sunday at Los Angeles.

Cleveland's Jim Brown, No. 32, is well known. But the Rams also have a fullback named Jim Brown, and he wears No. 32.

The Rams' rookie from Western Kentucky State is a 6-foot-1, 210-pounder who carried the ball five times for four yards in the Rams' 9-0 win over the Dallas Cowboys Tuesday night.

The victory is an indication the Rams are ready to improve on their 5-7-2 record last year in the Western Division of the National Football League.

The Browns, NFL defending champions, took a 37-21 decision over the San Francisco 49-ers in their exhibition opener Sunday.

Rams Coach Harland Svare said he plans to use one quarterback during the season but is likely to test both Roman Gabriele and Bill Munson against the Browns.

The Rams have a Northern Ohio product in the lineup. He's defensive end Tim Powell of North Canton, who played with the Canton Bulldogs last season after attending Northwestern University.

Chester Merchants Coast To Softball Playoff Title

The Chester Merchants coasted to the championship of the Chester Softball League playoffs as Jack Thayer blasted two home runs and Cap Poole pitched a three hitter for a 10-1 win over Gallagher's Market.

Thayer also added a double to the attack and Poole helped his own cause by connecting for a home run. John Clendenning was the losing hurler.

Trophies were presented to Cliff Shenton, manager of the Merchants and to Bob Gallagher for second place.

Drawings will be held Friday for the City Tournament which opens Monday night.

Triple Plays Prove Lucky Omen To Baltimore Star

Tribe Splits; Twins, Tigers Tilt Halted

By The Associated Press

Brookes Robinson must be the only man in baseball who could consider hitting into a triple play a lucky omen.

Baltimore's classy third baseman battered into one a year ago — while in a hot streak — and wound up the American League's Most Valuable Player.

He started another triple play with a grounder in his first at-bat Wednesday night but wound up leading the Orioles to a 3-2 victory over Boston, climbing nearer the league batting leadership, and improving his chances for a second MVP award.

Robinson singled on his second trip to the plate and scored, then drove across the winning run with another single in the eighth inning. His two hits raised his average to .327 — a climb of 31 points this month — and left him just one point behind Boston's Carl Yastrzemski, who was 1-for-4.

In other AL action Johnny Romano and Pete Ward powered the Chicago White Sox to their sixth straight victory, 8-2 over Washington; the Los Angeles Angels beat the New York Yankees 7-3 with a four-run eighth inning; and Cleveland split with Kansas City, winning 4-1 after a 4-2 setback. Detroit had a 1-0 lead over Minnesota's first-place Twins when their game at Detroit was rained out in the fourth inning.

Robinson, who has hit .456 this month with 33-for-71 in 18 games, came up in the first inning with one run in and men on first and second. His grounder to third went from Frank Malzone to Felix Mantilla to Tony Horton for two outs, and Horton's return to Malzone caught Paul Blair, who had slipped rounding third.

But in the fourth, Robinson beat out an infield hit, was sacrificed to second, and scored on Jerry Adair's single. Eddie Bressoud tied it at 2-2 with a pinch two-run homer in the seventh, but Robinson untied it in the eighth with another single, following a walk to Blair and a wild pitch.

Romano batted in four White Sox runs with a homer and single, while Ward knocked in three with a homer and single. Bruce Howard blanked the Senators through eight innings, but was touched for two runs in the ninth and needed relief help from Bob Locker.

Willie Smith started the Angels' eighth-inning uprising against the Yankees with a pinch triple off reliever Pedro Ramos and scored the go-ahead run on Merritt Ranew's pinch single. Joe Adcock's single, Bobby Knoop's double and a ground out by Bob Rodgers cashed in three more.

Adcock also hit a two - run homer in the first, off Whitey Ford. Mickey Mantle homered in the third for New York and Bobby Richardson evened it at 3-3 with a two-run homer in the seventh.

Dean Chance, struggling this year after winning the Cy Young Award as the majors' top pitcher last seeason, pulld his record to 9-9 with the victory.

Jose Tartabull paced the A's over Cleveland in the doubleheader opener with four hits, one run scored and an RBI. But the Indians came back with early cannonading in the second game, getting homers by Rocky Colavito, Fred Whitefield and Pedro Gonzalez in the first two innings for a quick 4-0 lead.

Newell Wins On Heffner's Three Hitter

Ron Heffner of Newell, who has lost only one game in two years of hurling in the South Side Hot Stove Junior Division, evened the score with Lawrenceville Wednesday in pitching Newell to a 7-1 victory in the second game of the playoff series.

Heffner fanned 10 batters and allowed only three hits.

Newell came up with nine hits with Jim Stine and Jim Booher collecting two each while Larry Kaser had an extra base hit. Jay Mumaw was the losing hurler.

The two teams will meet Friday in the showdown game.

Euclid Tops Stratford

WASHINGTON, Pa. (AP) — Four-hit pitching by Dan Zdanowicz led Euclid, Ohio, to a 3-0 victory over Stratford, Conn., Wednesday night in the opening round of the Pony League Eastern Division Tournament.

Euclid plays Charlotte, N.C., tonight in the second round of the double elimination tourney.

Cincy's Rookie Pitcher Prefers Relief Duties

CHICAGO (AP) — Becoming a starting pitcher for the Cincinnati Reds fails to impress rookie Teddy Davidson.

"I would rather relieve, but I'll be a starter if that is what Mr. Sisler wants," says the 25-year-old bachelor.

The 180-pound, trim-looking southpaw as recalled from the Reds' San Diego farm club July 22 after a 6-5 record to be given his first big chance in the majors by Manager Dick Sisler.

In 22-plus innings of relief for the Reds, Davidson had a 1.99 earned run average, 22 strikeouts, only eight walks, and a 1-1 record.

"Last Sunday in St. Louis, Mr. Sisler told me I would start against the Cubs," says Davidson. "I would prefer to continue as a relief pitcher, but I'll do anything to stay in the big time. I would rather relieve because I get more work. As a starter, you get knocked out and you are out of action five days before your turn comes again."

Davidson made his first major league start against the Cubs Tuesday and was credited with a victory. He went six innings with a yield of eight hits and was ahead 4-3 before retiring. The Reds won 6-4.

Big Greens Wait World Golf Field

SUTTON, Mass. (AP) — Sprawling greens nearly the size of real estate lots faced a select field of 154 standouts from 13 nations today in the opening round of the $200,000 Carling World Golf Tournament.

The gigantic greens of the Pleasant Valley Country Club had the world's foremost golfers, including Jack Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer, talking to themselves at the outset of the 72-hole competition.

"The greens are twice as big as any I have ever seen," said Nicklaus, the 25-year-old Masters champion, who needs only $1,731 in this tournament to break Palmer's 1963 record earnings of $128,230 in official PGA play.

"I've never played a course with greens so big," said Palmer, pro golf's all-time top money winner. "Some of them are just unbelievable."

"I can understand greens with long runs, but not ones like these."

Nicklaus and Palmer got their first look at the 6,713-yard, par 71 layout Wednesday. Palmer, playing with the veteran Ben Hoagan, said he was "around par, with a couple of birdies and a couple of bogies."

Nicklaus, whose private plane was delayed by bad weather hustled through a practice round in late afternoon. He skipped many short holes, played two balls off most tees and didn't keep any card.

Neither Nicklaus nor Palmer would predict a winning score for the rich tournament with first prize money of $35,000. Nicklaus said he doesn't think it will be any lower than 280.

Detroit had a 1-0 lead over Minnesota's first-place Twins when their game at Detroit was rained out in the fourth inning.

Robinson, who has hit .456 this month with 33-for-71 in 18 games, came up in the first inning with one run in and men on first and second. His grounder to third went from Frank Malzone to Felix Mantilla to Tony Horton for two outs, and Horton's return to Malzone caught Paul Blair, who had slipped rounding third.

But in the fourth, Robinson beat out an infield hit, was sacrificed to second, and scored on Jerry Adair's single. Eddie Bressoud tied it at 2-2 with a pinch two-run homer in the seventh, but Robinson untied it in the eighth with another single, following a walk to Blair and a wild pitch.

Romano batted in four White Sox runs with a homer and single, while Ward knocked in three with a homer and single. Bruce Howard blanked the Senators through eight innings, but was touched for two runs in the ninth and needed relief help from Bob Locker.

Willie Smith started the Angels' eighth-inning uprising against the Yankees with a pinch triple off reliever Pedro Ramos and scored the go-ahead run on Merritt Ranew's pinch single. Joe Adcock's single, Bobby Knoop's double and a ground out by Bob Rodgers cashed in three more.

Adcock also hit a two - run homer in the first, off Whitey Ford. Mickey Mantle homered in the third for New York and Bobby Richardson evened it at 3-3 with a two-run homer in the seventh.

Dean Chance, struggling this year after winning the Cy Young Award as the majors' top pitcher last seeason, pulld his record to 9-9 with the victory.

Jose Tartabull paced the A's over Cleveland in the doubleheader opener with four hits, one run scored and an RBI. But the Indians came back with early cannonading in the second game, getting homers by Rocky Colavito, Fred Whitefield and Pedro Gonzalez in the first two innings for a quick 4-0 lead.

Newell Wins On Heffner's Three Hitter

Ron Heffner of Newell, who has lost only one game in two years of hurling in the South Side Hot Stove Junior Division, evened the score with Lawrenceville Wednesday in pitching Newell to a 7-1 victory in the second game of the playoff series.

Heffner fanned 10 batters and allowed only three hits.

Newell came up with nine hits with Jim Stine and Jim Booher collecting two each while Larry Kaser had an extra base hit. Jay Mumaw was the losing hurler.

The two teams will meet Friday in the showdown game.

Euclid Tops Stratford

WASHINGTON, Pa. (AP) — Four-hit pitching by Dan Zdanowicz led Euclid, Ohio, to a 3-0 victory over Stratford, Conn., Wednesday night in the opening round of the Pony League Eastern Division Tournament.

Euclid plays Charlotte, N.C., tonight in the second round of the double elimination tourney.

Cincy's Rookie Pitcher Prefers Relief Duties

CHICAGO (AP) — Becoming a starting pitcher for the Cincinnati Reds fails to impress rookie Teddy Davidson.

"I would rather relieve, but I'll be a starter if that is what Mr. Sisler wants," says the 25-year-old bachelor.

The 180-pound, trim-looking southpaw as recalled from the Reds' San Diego farm club July 22 after a 6-5 record to be given his first big chance in the majors by Manager Dick Sisler.

In 22-plus innings of relief for the Reds, Davidson had a 1.99 earned run average, 22 strikeouts, only eight walks, and a 1-1 record.

"Last Sunday in St. Louis, Mr. Sisler told me I would start against the Cubs," says Davidson. "I would prefer to continue as a relief pitcher, but I'll do anything to stay in the big time. I would rather relieve because I get more work. As a starter, you get knocked out and you are out of action five days before your turn comes again."

Davidson made his first major league start against the Cubs Tuesday and was credited with a victory. He went six innings with a yield of eight hits and was ahead 4-3 before retiring. The Reds won 6-4.

Big Greens Wait World Golf Field

SUTTON, Mass. (AP) — Sprawling greens nearly the size of real estate lots faced a select field of 154 standouts from 13 nations today in the opening round of the $200,000 Carling World Golf Tournament.

The gigantic greens of the Pleasant Valley Country Club had the world's foremost golfers, including Jack Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer, talking to themselves at the outset of the 72-hole competition.

"The greens are twice as big as any I have ever seen," said Nicklaus, the 25-year-old Masters champion, who needs only $1,731 in this tournament to break Palmer's 1963 record earnings of $128,230 in official PGA play.

"I've never played a course with greens so big," said Palmer, pro golf's all-time top money winner. "Some of them are just unbelievable."

"I can understand greens with long runs, but not ones like these."

Nicklaus and Palmer got their first look at the 6,713-yard, par 71 layout Wednesday. Palmer, playing with the veteran Ben Hoagan, said he was "around par, with a couple of birdies and a couple of bogies."

Nicklaus, whose private plane was delayed by bad weather hustled through a practice round in late afternoon. He skipped many short holes, played two balls off most tees and didn't keep any card.

Neither Nicklaus nor Palmer would predict a winning score for the rich tournament with first prize money of $35,000. Nicklaus said he doesn't think it will be any lower than 280.

Miami U. Grid Squad Seen Lacking Depth

OXFORD, Ohio (AP)—Miami University football coach Bo Schembechler admits he has a problem when the Redskins open drills Tuesday — lack of depth.

Fifty-five men have been asked to report to the first session and 27 of them are sophomores.

The Redskins are starting drills a week earlier than other Mid - American Conference schools due to Miami's switch to the trimester system of classes. Classes begin Sept. 7 and grid drills can start two weeks before school opens.

Miami's first game is Sept. 18 against Purdue.

Jayell Heads Long List For West Virginia Derby

Nominations for the sixth running of the West Virginia Derby were released today and those named for the $7500 added classic at Waterford Park total 18, headed by the great Pittsburgh owned colt, Jayell, who races in the silks of the prominent Keystone Stable.

This hard - hitting son of Piecesofeight - Risky Law won his last start on July 26 at Delaware Park, defeating some top-flight horses in the $10,000 class, one at Delaware on July 6, over the turf course, and the other at Gulfstream Park on March 5, over the main course. It is expected that his regular jockey, Buck Thornburg, will be at Waterford Park to ride Jayell in the Derby this Saturday.

Trainer Pat Santo, who saddled the last two W.Va. Derby winners at Waterford Park, named Pantuity and Tricky Scamp for the race. Pantuity, a son of Pantene - Delibertuity, is now on the grounds and is being galloped by Floyd Green, who rode the last two Derby winners for Santo, aboard Etimota and Peter LeGrand in 1963-64 respectively. Green will have the leg up on Pantuity and he may complete the charmed circle of three straight for himself and trainer Santo.

Others rounding out the list of nominations for the Derby are W. Beasly & M. Krismanich's Thyjack, Merle Brady's Lucy McCarter, Crimson King Farm's Sassy Prey, Theodore L. Huge's Real Gem, C. N. Holt's Cloud Chief, Red Barn Farm's Chicle's Joco, Mary M. Goldblatt's Biddy Shannon, J. D. Schofield's Kura Count, Leon Kersey's Gettum, Francis Robison's Chance Gay, Charles M. Freeman's Away He Run, J. B. Abney's Wise Court, Milton Longerbeam's Itsacolo, winner of the Derby Trial last Saturday, Charles A. Calhoun's Toppers Flash and the prominent Texas Sportsman Dan H. Shepler's High On'a.

At present it appears that at least twelve of the eighteen nominees will be named for the Stake through the entry box on Thursday, making it the largest field ever to go postward in this finest of all West Virginia stakes classics.

Post time on Derby Night, Saturday, August 21, will be the usual 7:15 p. m. and the Derby is expected to go postward at approximately 10:30 p. m.

Miss Patricia Leber, this year's West Virginia Derby Queen, will be in the winners' circle to present the winning owner with a handsome engraved trophy during ceremonies immediately following the running of the West Virginia Derby.

Triplett, Johnson Could Make Cards Chief Threat

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

LAKE FOREST, Ill. (AP) — Bill Triplett's return to health and the maturing of Charley Johnson make the St. Louis Cardinals a formidable threat to win the Eastern Conference title in the National Football League.

The Cards haven't won the crown since they moved to St. Louis in 1960. They hadn't won at Chicago, either, since 1948 when they swept the division crown but lost the championship game.

Wally Lemm came so close last year when he lost by a half-game that he is coming back with the same ball club, with the exception of Triplett. Lemm believes that a club that beat Cleveland once and tied once doesn't need much tinkering to take it all.

Defeats by New York, Dallas and Baltimore and another tie game with New York left the Cards one-half game out at the end, although they were 6-0-1 in their last seven and then whipped Green Bay in the Play-off Bowl.

"You have to go along with Cleveland as the team to beat," said Lemm. "Washington is greatly improved and is going to have a great effect on the race. Pittsburgh always gives us trouble and everybody knows the Giants and Cowboys hurt us. Philadelphia can give you a rough afternoon.

"We have more defensive depth with the addition of Abe Woodson from San Francisco. We are counting on Dave Simmons, our No. 2 draft pick from Georgia Tech, to help us at linebacker or defensive end where we had problems last year.

"I consider Charley Johnson the best young quarterback in the league, including Fran Tarkenton. To me his only problem is not throwing the ball out of bounds and forcing his passes. I want him to get rid of the ball but not into a crowd."

Triplett will be at halfback, with Joe Childress at fullback. Thunder Thornton, Willis Crenshaw, Prentice Gautt and Bob Paremore give Lemm a deep reserve of runners to fill the gap left by John David Crow, traded to the 49ers for Woodson.

Sonny Randle, the fleet split end who missed half the 1964 season due to a shoulder separation, is back. With Bobby Joe Conrad at flanker and Jackie Smith at tight end, Johnson has first class receivers. Billy Gambrell, the game little fellow who filled in for Randle, will be more valuable for the experience.

Lemm thinks he is in good shape up front in his offensive line with the talented Bob DeMarco at center and all-league Ken Gray at one guard and Irv Goode at the other. Ernie McMillan handles one tackle job and Herschel Turner is fighting Bob Reynolds for the other.

The front four of Joe Robb, Sam Silas, Duke Owens and Dob Brumm is intact. Larry Stallings, Dale Meinert and Bill Koman again are the linebackers and Pat Fischer, Larry Wilson, Larry Stovall and Jimmy Hurson or Woodson will man the deep defense.

Lemm has a big scoring weapon in Jim Bakken, his place kicker who scored 115 points last year.

Broad Jump Record Seen At Budapest

BUDAPEST (AP) — Meet officials happily forecast a world record broad jump in the fourth Student Olympics beginning Friday after Ralph Boston, Igor Ter-Ovanesyan and Lynn Davies checked in today.

"This will be a tremendous battle as all three men are in top form," Russian team Manager Leonid Sviridov said.

"It should be quite a clash," American team Manager Jim Fowler of Philadelphia said. "I think the result will be a little different than in Tokyo."

Davies, a Welshman competing for Great Britain, pulled off one of the biggest upsets of the 1964 Olympics in Tokyo when he won the gold medal with a leap of 26-5½ on a wet and windy afternoon.

Boston, the 1960 gold medalist and holder of the listed world record at 27-4¼, was second and the Russian Ter-Ovanesyan, former world record holder, was third.

The United States, competing in these games for the first time, has a 42-man track and field team and a strong swimming squad, which arrived Thursday.

Muskingum Floor Coach Goes To OSU

NEW CONCORD, Ohio (AP) —Bob Burkholder has resigned as head basketball coach at Muskingum College to become freshman basketball coach at Ohio State University, where he once was a hoop star.

In 10 years at Muskingum, Burkholder's basketball teams won 112 and lost 95.

The 39-year-old Bluffton native won three basketball letters at Ohio State, and was on the Big Ten championship team of 1950 that also included Fred Taylor, now the Buckeye head coach.

Burkholder coached at Jackson High School and Urbana High School before moving to Muskingum.

Frank Truitt coached the Ohio State freshmen in recent seasons but resigned this spring to accept the head coaching job at Louisianna State University.

Former Big Leaguer Building Grid Career

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Tom Brown, who catapulted to sudden but short-lived fame as a baseball rookie in 1963, is quietly building a new career as a defensive back with the Green Bay Packers of the National Football League.

Baseball is now only a memory to Brown, who joined the Packers last season after his batting average with the York White Roses of the Eastern League fell to .220.

The year before, Brown, fresh from the University of Maryland campus, had been a sensation as a rookie first baseman in the Washington Senator's spring training camp.

Ironmen Face Newark Club In CFL Game

By The Associated Press

Hartford pits the passing of Mike Moslof against Toronto's running duet of Ron McCauley and Joe Williams Saturday night with one of the teams almost certain to suffer its first Continental Football League defeat.

The CFL, in its first season, has adopted a rule to keep tie games to a minimum. If it's tied at the end of regulation play, a sudden death fifth period is added.

Moslof pitched two touchdown passes last week as Hartford opened with a 17-10 victory over Richmond. McCauley and Williams romped for 150 yards as Toronto blanked Wheeling, W. Va., 20-0.

Toronto and Hartford meet Saturday at 8 p.m. at Hartford.

Meantime, Newark, and Wheeling, both losers in the first games of the season, play at Wheeling Sunday at 8 p.m.

In other Saturday night action, Richmond is at Philadelphia, Norfolk is at Charleston, W. Va., and Providence visits Fort Wayne, Ind.

The new league, formed from members of the old United and Atlantic Coast Conferences, announced attendance at its first five games totaled more than 50,000.

To spark fan interest, the CFL not only added the sudden death period, but renovated rules on the kickoff and its reception to speed up that phase of the game.

Lure Of Playoff Spot Turns Syracuse Hot

By The Associated Press

The lure of a playoff berth appears to have sparked the Syracuse Chiefs and turned them into the hottest team in the International League.

Wednesday, the Chiefs turned back Buffalo 4-1 for their sixth consecutive victory and 12th in 16 games with the bisons.

In other games, Columbus shut out Jacksonville 3-0 and Rochester blasted Toronto 9-4. Atlanta and Toledo were not scheduled.

Steve Blass and Sam Jones combined for a two-hit shutout as Columbus stretched its league lead to two games.

Jayell Heads Long List For West Virginia Derby

Nominations for the sixth running of the West Virginia Derby were released today and those named for the $7500 added classic at Waterford Park total 18, headed by the great Pittsburgh owned colt, Jayell, who races in the silks of the prominent Keystone Stable.

This hard - hitting son of Piecesofeight - Risky Law won his last start on July 26 at Delaware Park, defeating some top-flight horses in the $10,000 class, one at Delaware on July 6, over the turf course, and the other at Gulfstream Park on March 5, over the main course. It is expected that his regular jockey, Buck Thornburg, will be at Waterford Park to ride Jayell in the Derby this Saturday.

Trainer Pat Santo, who saddled the last two W.Va. Derby winners at Waterford Park, named Pantuity and Tricky Scamp for the race. Pantuity, a son of Pantene - Delibertuity, is now on the grounds and is being galloped by Floyd Green, who rode the last two Derby winners for Santo, aboard Etimota and Peter LeGrand in 1963-64 respectively. Green will have the leg up on Pantuity and he may complete the charmed circle of three straight for himself and trainer Santo.

Others rounding out the list of nominations for the Derby are W. Beasly & M. Krismanich's Thyjack, Merle Brady's Lucy McCarter, Crimson King Farm's Sassy Prey, Theodore L. Huge's Real Gem, C. N. Holt's Cloud Chief, Red Barn Farm's Chicle's Joco, Mary M. Goldblatt's Biddy Shannon, J. D. Schofield's Kura Count, Leon Kersey's Gettum, Francis Robison's Chance Gay, Charles M. Freeman's Away He Run, J. B. Abney's Wise Court, Milton Longerbeam's Itsacolo, winner of the Derby Trial last Saturday, Charles A. Calhoun's Toppers Flash and the prominent Texas Sportsman Dan H. Shepler's High On'a.

At present it appears that at least twelve of the eighteen nominees will be named for the Stake through the entry box on Thursday, making it the largest field ever to go postward in this finest of all West Virginia stakes classics.

Post time on Derby Night, Saturday, August 21, will be the usual 7:15 p. m. and the Derby is expected to go postward at approximately 10:30 p. m.

Miss Patricia Leber, this year's West Virginia Derby Queen, will be in the winners' circle to present the winning owner with a handsome engraved trophy during ceremonies immediately following the running of the West Virginia Derby.

Triplett, Johnson Could Make Cards Chief Threat

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

LAKE FOREST, Ill. (AP) — Bill Triplett's return to health and the maturing of Charley Johnson make the St. Louis Cardinals a formidable threat to win the Eastern Conference title in the National Football League.

The Cards haven't won the crown since they moved to St. Louis in 1960. They hadn't won at Chicago, either, since 1948 when they swept the division crown but lost the championship game.

Wally Lemm came so close last year when he lost by a half-game that he is coming back with the same ball club, with the exception of Triplett. Lemm believes that a club that beat Cleveland once and tied once doesn't need much tinkering to take it all.

Defeats by New York, Dallas and Baltimore and another tie game with New York left the Cards one-half game out at the end, although they were 6-0-1 in their last seven and then whipped Green Bay in the Play-off Bowl.

"You have to go along with Cleveland as the team to beat," said Lemm. "Washington is greatly improved and is going to have a great effect on the race. Pittsburgh always gives us trouble and everybody knows the Giants and Cowboys hurt us. Philadelphia can give you a rough afternoon.

"We have more defensive depth with the addition of Abe Woodson from San Francisco. We are counting on Dave Simmons, our No. 2 draft pick from Georgia Tech, to help us at linebacker or defensive end where we had problems last year.

"I consider Charley Johnson the best young quarterback in the league, including Fran Tarkenton. To me his only problem is not throwing the ball out of bounds and forcing his passes. I want him to get rid of the ball but not into a crowd."

Triplett will be at halfback, with Joe Childress at fullback. Thunder Thornton, Willis Crenshaw, Prentice Gautt and Bob Paremore give Lemm a deep reserve of runners to fill the gap left by John David Crow, traded to the 49ers for Woodson.

Sonny Randle, the fleet split end who missed half the 1964 season due to a shoulder separation, is back. With Bobby Joe Conrad at flanker and Jackie Smith at tight end, Johnson has first class receivers. Billy Gambrell, the game little fellow who filled in for Randle, will be more valuable for the experience.

Lemm thinks he is in good shape up front in his offensive line with the talented Bob DeMarco at center and all-league Ken Gray at one guard and Irv Goode at the other. Ernie McMillan handles one tackle job and Herschel Turner is fighting Bob Reynolds for the other.

The front four of Joe Robb, Sam Silas, Duke Owens and Dob Brumm is intact. Larry Stallings, Dale Meinert and Bill Koman again are the linebackers and Pat Fischer, Larry Wilson, Larry Stovall and Jimmy Hurson or Woodson will man the deep defense.

Lemm has a big scoring weapon in Jim Bakken, his place kicker who scored 115 points last year.

Broad Jump Record Seen At Budapest

BUDAPEST (AP) — Meet officials happily forecast a world record broad jump in the fourth Student Olympics beginning Friday after Ralph Boston, Igor Ter-Ovanesyan and Lynn Davies checked in today.

"This will be a tremendous battle as all three men are in top form," Russian team Manager Leonid Sviridov said.

"It should be quite a clash," American team Manager Jim Fowler of Philadelphia said. "I think the result will be a little different than in Tokyo."

Davies, a Welshman competing for Great Britain, pulled off one of the biggest upsets of the 1964 Olympics in Tokyo when he won the gold medal with a leap of 26-5½ on a wet and windy afternoon.

Boston, the 1960 gold medalist and holder of the listed world record at 27-4¼, was second and the Russian Ter-Ovanesyan, former world record holder, was third.

The United States, competing in these games for the first time, has a 42-man track and field team and a strong swimming squad, which arrived Thursday.

Muskingum Floor Coach Goes To OSU

NEW CONCORD, Ohio (AP) —Bob Burkholder has resigned as head basketball coach at Muskingum College to become freshman basketball coach at Ohio State University, where he once was a hoop star.

In 10 years at Muskingum, Burkholder's basketball teams won 112 and lost 95.

The 39-year-old Bluffton native won three basketball letters at Ohio State, and was on the Big Ten championship team of 1950 that also included Fred Taylor, now the Buckeye head coach.

Burkholder coached at Jackson High School and Urbana High School before moving to Muskingum.

Frank Truitt coached the Ohio State freshmen in recent seasons but resigned this spring to accept the head coaching job at Louisianna State University.

Former Big Leaguer Building Grid Career

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Tom Brown, who catapulted to sudden but short-lived fame as a baseball rookie in 1963, is quietly building a new career as a defensive back with the Green Bay Packers of the National Football League.

Baseball is now only a memory to Brown, who joined the Packers last season after his batting average with the York White Roses of the Eastern League fell to .220.

The year before, Brown, fresh from the University of Maryland campus, had been a sensation as a rookie first baseman in the Washington Senator's spring training camp.

Ironmen Face Newark Club In CFL Game

By The Associated Press

Hartford pits the passing of Mike Moslof against Toronto's running duet of Ron McCauley and Joe Williams Saturday night with one of the teams almost certain to suffer its first Continental Football League defeat.

The CFL, in its first season, has adopted a rule to keep tie games to a minimum. If it's tied at the end of regulation play, a sudden death fifth period is added.

Moslof pitched two touchdown passes last week as Hartford opened with a 17-10 victory over Richmond. McCauley and Williams romped for 150 yards as Toronto blanked Wheeling, W. Va., 20-0.

Toronto and Hartford meet Saturday at 8 p.m. at Hartford.

Meantime, Newark, and Wheeling, both losers in the first games of the season, play at Wheeling Sunday at 8 p.m.

In other Saturday night action, Richmond is at Philadelphia, Norfolk is at Charleston, W. Va., and Providence visits Fort Wayne, Ind.

The new league, formed from members of the old United and Atlantic Coast Conferences, announced attendance at its first five games totaled more than 50,000.

To spark fan interest, the CFL not only added the sudden death period, but renovated rules on the kickoff and its reception to speed up that phase of the game.

Lure Of Playoff Spot Turns Syracuse Hot

By The Associated Press

The lure of a playoff berth appears to have sparked the Syracuse Chiefs and turned them into the hottest team in the International League.

Wednesday, the Chiefs turned back Buffalo 4-1 for their sixth consecutive victory and 12th in 16 games with the bisons.

In other games, Columbus shut out Jacksonville 3-0 and Rochester blasted Toronto 9-4. Atlanta and Toledo were not scheduled.

Steve Blass and Sam Jones combined for a two-hit shutout as Columbus stretched its league lead to two games.

Queen's In-Law Denied Bid To Take Photos Near Palace

LONDON (AP) — Two London newspapers gleefully reported today that Queen Elizabeth's brother-in-law—who works for a rival paper—was not allowed to take pictures which might have included a bird's-eye view of Buckingham Palace.

The Daily Mirror and the Daily Express reported that the Earl of Snowdon, Princess Margaret's husband, was turned down when he asked to shoot some pictures from one of the tall new buildings near the palace. Snowdon is employed by the Sunday Times as a photographer.

The Mirror reported:

"The photographer-earl, who has a 135-pound ($378) a week job with the Sunday Times, wanted to snap views of London from the new 21-story Westminster City Hall. But a receptionist told him: 'We're sorry. Our instructions are that no one representing an unofficial organization, such as the press, may take photos which might include the palace.'

"Buckingham Palace officials have been fretting for some time about the possibility of intrusion on the queen's privacy by long-range cameras operated from tall new buildings nearby.

CORE Director Will Appear At Cincinnati Rally

CINCINNATI (AP)— National Director James Farmer heads a list of Congress of Racial Equality officials scheduled to appear here next Thursday at a mass rally and parade.

Leonard Ball, local CORE chairman, said Wednesday night Farmer will be making his first major speech in Cincinnati. The rally will be on "job opportunities in Cincinnati," Ball said.

In other civil rights action here Wednesday, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People said it named two Cincinnati unions in job discrimination charges filed with the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission.

The NAACP said the charges were filed in Washington and named Local 212, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, and Local 392, Plumbers and Pipefitters.

CORE and NAACP have staged several demonstrations here since July 26, protesting the alleged refusal of labor unions to hire qualified Negroes for construction work.

Akron's Target In $350,000 Suit

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—John E. Weibelt, 36, of Akron, who was injured during rescue attempts in last year's Tallmadge Parkway cave-in, has filed a $350,000 negligence suit against Akron.

The suit filed Wednesday in Summit County Common Pleas Court charges negligence in the deaths of three persons in the July 21, 1964, tragedy. Weibelt received a broken back and knee injuries while trying to help Ronald D. Rotruck, an Akron policeman, and Hugh M. O'Neil, 19, pull a family of three from their car which fell into the 40-foot, water-filled hole.

The patrolman, O'Neil and a passenger in the car were killed.

Weibelt charges he is permanently injured and unable to work as a result of the injuries.

Ex-Left Winger Bidding To Form Regime In Greece

ATHENS (AP) — Elias Tsirimokos, a former left-wing Socialist, began a new attempt today to form a government and end Greece's 35-day-old crisis.

King Constantine chose Tsirimokos after the 58-year-old politician and his ally, Stephanos Stephanopoulos, apparently convinced the king they could line up a parliamentary majority in defiance of ousted Premier George Papandreou.

Tsirimokos said he would go before the 300-member Parliament next week to ask for a vote of confidence. He claimed the support of 154 members, a majority of eight.

Papandreou, whose firing by the king on July 15 touched off Greece's worst crisis since the 1947-49 civil war, predicted Tsirimokos would meet with "severe denunciation" in Parliament.

Tsirimokos and Stephanopoulos were top aides of Papandreou when the crisis started. But they broke away from his Center Union party four days ago.

Columbus Man Held In Counterfeit Case

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Secret Service agents arrested Thomas Rank West, 52, of Columbus Wednesday in connection with the alleged counterfeiting of $5,700 in $5 bills.

West, an employe of an East Side printing company, waived a preliminary hearing before the U.S. commissioner and was held in lieu of $1,500 bond for investigation of counterfeiting.

Kenneth Balge, special agent in charge of the Secret Service office here, said West is believed to have hidden $5,000 in bogus bills.

Williams County Boy Drowns In Farm Pond

BRYAN, Ohio (AP) — A 15-year - old northern Williams County boy drowned Wednesday in a farm pond five miles north of Montpelier.

The sheriff's office said Marvin Easterlane of Pioneer disappeared shortly after he and some friends had gone to the pond for a swim. His body was recovered about an hour later.

Pastor Ordered Not To Spend Church's Money

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Rev. Fred W. Shuttlesworth, pastor of the Revelation Baptist Church and a civil rights leader, has been ordered not to spend any of the church's money.

The order came Wednesday when Common Pleas Judge Frank M. Gusweiler issued a temporary injunction in a suit filed by Mrs. Margaret Goins, a member of the church.

Shuttlesworth is secretary of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference and has led several civil rights demonstrations in the South. He is an aide to Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Mrs. Goins' suit alleged Shuttlesworth has "usurped power vested in the trustees and the treasurer" and has "assumed absolute and dictatorial authority over the church property."

Another charge said Shuttlesworth had withdrawn funds or had them withdrawn by unauthorized persons for unauthorized expenditures. The suit also asked for an audit of church funds.

Negro Appointed Chief Of Police In Michigan City

DOWAGIAC, Mich. (AP) — When George Grady joined the Dowagiac police force 10 years ago he was "determined to work as hard as I could and go as high as I could."

But, said the 32-year-old Negro, "I never dreamed I'd become chief."

This week Grady was named chief of the all-white eight member force. He had been holding the job for 11 months on an acting basis.

City Manager Edward Simmans of this southwest Michigan community of 7,800 persons, of whom about 1,100 are Negroes, made the appointment permanent this week.

"After observing George," Simmans said, "I felt he was extremely competent and able. His men have a lot of respect for him."

Board OKs Transfer Of 40 Negro Pupils

CHARDON, Ohio (AP)—The Kenston Board of Education Wednesday night agreed to transfer some 40 Negro pupils from an elementary school in the Chagrin Falls allotment to two predominantly white schools in the system.

Fourth and fifth graders at the all-Negro Park School will be transferred to classes in Gardiner and Auburn schools when school starts next month. Only grades one through three will remain at Park.

Traffic Mishap Fatal

CINCINNATI (AP) — A car-truck collision Wednesday claimed the life of Robert Sapadin, 15, Cincinnati. The youth died in a hospital following the accident in suburban Finneytown. He was a passenger in the car.

Racial Unrest Seen As Part Of World Tension

CLEVELAND (AP) — Racial disturbance in America is no longer an internal issue but an "integral part of the worldwide tension," the president of the Lutheran Church in America said Wednesday night.

The Rev. Dr. Franklin Clark Fry told 1,000 guests to the convention of Lutheran Church Women that those who talk of racial justice in this country as going too fast are "irresponsible . . . and haven't the vaguest idea of where our world stands today."

"Whether we like it or not our racial disturbances and racial injustices in the United States are no longer purely internal issues," Dr. Fry said. "What occurred in the riots that happened recently are an integral part of the worldwide tension."

Innocent Plea Given In Child Abuse Case

LIMA, Ohio (AP)—Carol Joan Raderstorf, 31, a housemother at the Allen County Children's Home, pleaded innocent in juvenile court Wednesday to a child abuse charge in connection with the alleged razor strap beating of an 11-year-old child Aug. 2. Bond was set at $500 pending a future hearing.

Home Supt. Merill Schmidt also has been charged with child abuse in the alleged beating of another 11-year-old, but no date has been set for his court appearance.

6 Must Write Essay To Escape Fine, Jail

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—Six Struthers youths have a way to beat court sentences of $50 fines and 30-day jail sentences. They were found guilty of interferring with police investigating disturbances at a South Side dairy bar July 27.

The way out? Municipal Judge John J. Leskovyansky said Wednesday the youths would be spared the sentences if they each write 2,500-word essays on "What respect do I owe a police officer?" and turn them in by Christmas.

It's Not Sweet Situation For Ohio Honey Bees

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—It's not a sweet situation and Ohio's honey bees are going through a pretty rough period because of the unseasonable weather.

This was explained today by Ohio State University Agriculture Extension specialists who predicted this year's honey production will be reduced because of the weather.

The extremely dry weather in May and June, leaving nectar-producing plants barren, cut the early production. Alfalfa weevils helped ruin some nectar sources, and unseasonably cold nights slowed bees from their normal activity.

The specialists said eastern and southern production areas were hit the hardest, and for the rest of the state conditions are variable but generally much better.

Pennsylvania Ratifies Disability Amendment

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—Pennsylvania Wednesday became the fifth state to ratify a proposed U.S. Constitutional Amendment allowing the vice president to assume the powers of the presidency in times of presidential disability.

The state's position was made official on a vote of 157-32 by the Pennsylvania House following more than an hour of debate. The state Senate stamped its approval on the amendment July 22.

The day also saw House Republicans demand action from the Democratic leadership on the Scranton Administration's constitutional revision program, tied up for more than a month in House committee.

The House met in solo session; the Senate being in recess until Monday. The House comes back today.

Ex-Left Winger Bidding To Form Regime In Greece

ATHENS (AP) — Elias Tsirimokos, a former left-wing Socialist, began a new attempt today to form a government and end Greece's 35-day-old crisis.

King Constantine chose Tsirimokos after the 58-year-old politician and his ally, Stephanos Stephanopoulos, apparently convinced the king they could line up a parliamentary majority in defiance of ousted Premier George Papandreou.

Tsirimokos said he would go before the 300-member Parliament next week to ask for a vote of confidence. He claimed the support of 154 members, a majority of eight.

Papandreou, whose firing by the king on July 15 touched off Greece's worst crisis since the 1947-49 civil war, predicted Tsirimokos would meet with "severe denunciation" in Parliament.

Tsirimokos and Stephanopoulos were top aides of Papandreou when the crisis started. But they broke away from his Center Union party four days ago.

Columbus Man Held In Counterfeit Case

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Secret Service agents arrested Thomas Rank West, 52, of Columbus Wednesday in connection with the alleged counterfeiting of $5,700 in $5 bills.

West, an employe of an East Side printing company, waived a preliminary hearing before the U.S. commissioner and was held in lieu of $1,500 bond for investigation of counterfeiting.

Kenneth Balge, special agent in charge of the Secret Service office here, said West is believed to have hidden $5,000 in bogus bills.

Williams County Boy Drowns In Farm Pond

BRYAN, Ohio (AP) — A 15-year - old northern Williams County boy drowned Wednesday in a farm pond five miles north of Montpelier.

The sheriff's office said Marvin Easterlane of Pioneer disappeared shortly after he and some friends had gone to the pond for a swim. His body was recovered about an hour later.

Pastor Ordered Not To Spend Church's Money

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Rev. Fred W. Shuttlesworth, pastor of the Revelation Baptist Church and a civil rights leader, has been ordered not to spend any of the church's money.

The order came Wednesday when Common Pleas Judge Frank M. Gusweiler issued a temporary injunction in a suit filed by Mrs. Margaret Goins, a member of the church.

Shuttlesworth is secretary of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference and has led several civil rights demonstrations in the South. He is an aide to Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Mrs. Goins' suit alleged Shuttlesworth has "usurped power vested in the trustees and the treasurer" and has "assumed absolute and dictatorial authority over the church property."

Another charge said Shuttlesworth had withdrawn funds or had them withdrawn by unauthorized persons for unauthorized expenditures. The suit also asked for an audit of church funds.

Negro Appointed Chief Of Police In Michigan City

DOWAGIAC, Mich. (AP) — When George Grady joined the Dowagiac police force 10 years ago he was "determined to work as hard as I could and go as high as I could."

But, said the 32-year-old Negro, "I never dreamed I'd become chief."

This week Grady was named chief of the all-white eight member force. He had been holding the job for 11 months on an acting basis.

City Manager Edward Simmans of this southwest Michigan community of 7,800 persons, of whom about 1,100 are Negroes, made the appointment permanent this week.

"After observing George," Simmans said, "I felt he was extremely competent and able. His men have a lot of respect for him."

Board OKs Transfer Of 40 Negro Pupils

CHARDON, Ohio (AP)—The Kenston Board of Education Wednesday night agreed to transfer some 40 Negro pupils from an elementary school in the Chagrin Falls allotment to two predominantly white schools in the system.

Fourth and fifth graders at the all-Negro Park School will be transferred to classes in Gardiner and Auburn schools when school starts next month. Only grades one through three will remain at Park.

Traffic Mishap Fatal

CINCINNATI (AP) — A car-truck collision Wednesday claimed the life of Robert Sapadin, 15, Cincinnati. The youth died in a hospital following the accident in suburban Finneytown. He was a passenger in the car.

CORE Director Will Appear At Cincinnati Rally

CINCINNATI (AP)— National Director James Farmer heads a list of Congress of Racial Equality officials scheduled to appear here next Thursday at a mass rally and parade.

Leonard Ball, local CORE chairman, said Wednesday night Farmer will be making his first major speech in Cincinnati. The rally will be on "job opportunities in Cincinnati," Ball said.

In other civil rights action here Wednesday, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People said it named two Cincinnati unions in job discrimination charges filed with the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission.

The NAACP said the charges were filed in Washington and named Local 212, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, and Local 392, Plumbers and Pipefitters.

CORE and NAACP have staged several demonstrations here since July 26, protesting the alleged refusal of labor unions to hire qualified Negroes for construction work.

Racial Unrest Seen As Part Of World Tension

CLEVELAND (AP) — Racial disturbance in America is no longer an internal issue but an "integral part of the worldwide tension," the president of the Lutheran Church in America said Wednesday night.

The Rev. Dr. Franklin Clark Fry told 1,000 guests to the convention of Lutheran Church Women that those who talk of racial justice in this country as going too fast are "irresponsible . . . and haven't the vaguest idea of where our world stands today."

"Whether we like it or not our racial disturbances and racial injustices in the United States are no longer purely internal issues," Dr. Fry said. "What occurred in the riots that happened recently are an integral part of the worldwide tension."

Innocent Plea Given In Child Abuse Case

LIMA, Ohio (AP)—Carol Joan Raderstorf, 31, a housemother at the Allen County Children's Home, pleaded innocent in juvenile court Wednesday to a child abuse charge in connection with the alleged razor strap beating of an 11-year-old child Aug. 2. Bond was set at $500 pending a future hearing.

Home Supt. Merill Schmidt also has been charged with child abuse in the alleged beating of another 11-year-old, but no date has been set for his court appearance.

6 Must Write Essay To Escape Fine, Jail

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—Six Struthers youths have a way to beat court sentences of $50 fines and 30-day jail sentences. They were found guilty of interferring with police investigating disturbances at a South Side dairy bar July 27.

The way out? Municipal Judge John J. Leskovyansky said Wednesday the youths would be spared the sentences if they each write 2,500-word essays on "What respect do I owe a police officer?" and turn them in by Christmas.

Akron's Target In $350,000 Suit

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—John E. Weibelt, 36, of Akron, who was injured during rescue attempts in last year's Tallmadge Parkway cave-in, has filed a $350,000 negligence suit against Akron.

The suit filed Wednesday in Summit County Common Pleas Court charges negligence in the deaths of three persons in the July 21, 1964, tragedy. Weibelt received a broken back and knee injuries while trying to help Ronald D. Rotruck, an Akron policeman, and Hugh M. O'Neil, 19, pull a family of three from their car which fell into the 40-foot, water-filled hole.

The patrolman, O'Neil and a passenger in the car were killed.

Weibelt charges he is permanently injured and unable to work as a result of the injuries.

It's Not Sweet Situation For Ohio Honey Bees

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—It's not a sweet situation and Ohio's honey bees are going through a pretty rough period because of the unseasonable weather.

This was explained today by Ohio State University Agriculture Extension specialists who predicted this year's honey production will be reduced because of the weather.

The extremely dry weather in May and June, leaving nectar-producing plants barren, cut the early production. Alfalfa weevils helped ruin some nectar sources, and unseasonably cold nights slowed bees from their normal activity.

The specialists said eastern and southern production areas were hit the hardest, and for the rest of the state conditions are variable but generally much better.

Pennsylvania Ratifies Disability Amendment

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—Pennsylvania Wednesday became the fifth state to ratify a proposed U.S. Constitutional Amendment allowing the vice president to assume the powers of the presidency in times of presidential disability.

The state's position was made official on a vote of 157-32 by the Pennsylvania House following more than an hour of debate. The state Senate stamped its approval on the amendment July 22.

The day also saw House Republicans demand action from the Democratic leadership on the Scranton Administration's constitutional revision program, tied up for more than a month in House committee.

The House met in solo session; the Senate being in recess until Monday. The House comes back today.

Ex-Wisconsin Leader Philip La Follette Dies

WHAT is A CUSTOMER?

A CUSTOMER is the most important person ever in our office . . . in person or by mail.

A CUSTOMER is not dependent on us . . . we are dependent on him.

A CUSTOMER is not an interruption of our work . . . he is the purpose of it. We are not doing him a favor by serving him . . . he is doing us a favor by giving us the opportunity to do so.

A CUSTOMER is not an outsider to our business . . . he is a part of it.

A CUSTOMER is not a cold statistic . . . he is a flesh-and-blood human being with feelings and emotions like your own, and with biases and prejudices.

A CUSTOMER is not someone to argue or match wits with. Nobody ever won an argument with a customer.

A CUSTOMER is a person who brings us his wants. It is our job to handle them profitably to him and to ourselves.

Junior Editors Quiz on OCEANS AND SEAS

QUESTION: What is the difference between a sea and an ocean?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: The ancient Greeks thought that outside the limits of the known world revolved a vast mysterious body of water, infinite in extent. The Romans used the word "Oceanus" for this region, and from this comes our word ocean. Because Oceanus was so vast, except for certain inland seas, all the salt water on earth flows together and we speak of all of it as the ocean. But parts of the ocean lie in different areas, and we also speak of these large divisions as oceans. Many geographers speak of seven oceans: the Arctic, Antartic, North Atlantic, South Atlantic, North Pacific, South Pacific and Indian Oceans. Some do not call the Antarctic a separate ocean, but rather the extreme southern parts of the South Atlantic, South Pacific and Indian Oceans.

A sea usually means a large body of salt water of less extent than an ocean, one partly or wholly surrounded by land, such as the Mediterranean or Caspian Sea. The words ocean and sea are sometimes used to express the same thing. Bill and his sister Janice have gone to the seashore in our lower picture, but they are looking at ocean waves thundering against the rocks.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Open an atlas and check on the names of the big bodies of water. This will help you to understand the difference generally given to the words ocean and sea.
